A STOCK AND BOND DEPARTMENT OPENED

Franklin B. Green, formerly of the well-known banking house of George H. Burr & Co., of New York city, has arrived in Charlotte to take charge of a new department which the American Trust company is to open at once—a department of stocks, bonds and securities.

The American Trust company, by opening this department, becomes a pioneer in this field of banking activity in the Carolinas, as no other banking institution in either of the states has such a department at present. With the opening of this department anyone may call in person or by telephone and learn the status of the highest class stocks on the New York market. The department will list all the highest class stocks and a patron will be enabled to keep in touch with the market almost as if he were on the curb in New York.

Mr. Green is a native of Maryland but has been connected with George H. Burr & Co. for a number of years and is thoroughly versed in every phase of the stocks, bonds and securities market.

CRACKERLESS FOURTH OF JULY BEEN PROMISED

No Fireworks Sold For Next Week—Bickett Goes to Ashe to Speak

Raleigh, June 29.—Firecrackerless fourth of July in almost every North Carolina place of celebration is promised the state insurance commissioner who sees the first approximation to a sane fourth since the first one that made Great Britain hot.

From reports all over the state he learns that no fireworks will be sold and Mr. Young is highly set up that local authorities have had nerve enough to taboo the cannon cracker and the Roman candle. Few or no dealers have been tempted to sell fireworks on the sly and violations through explosives surreptitiously procured will be many times less this year than ever. This kind of celebrating has done more than its share of devilment.

Mr. Young declares that the municipal authorities have readily agreed to stop the old-time fourth. The fire losses will be much smaller as a result of it, he thinks while the government will get the benefit of the explosives and put them into action against Germany. The suppression of the fireworks evil would be a long step in fire prevention the commissioner thinks.
Five candidates for judge made a hot race recently but when Senator Person of Franklin stood up with Judge Calvert, the senator declined to encumber the district with another race. It will cost $500 to hold the second primary and the emoluments of a county commissioner are pretty well understood. L. B. Woodall, hindmost man in the race, demands the election with R. Paul Jones, the leader by more than 200 votes. There is a general disposition to lay M. Woodall low.
Adjutant General Laurence W. Young, who has been in Ashe county working on the deserters' case, is in Raleigh again and Governor Bickett has gone to Ashe to speak.

General Young's report to Governor Bickett discourages the employment of state and federal troops to bring in deserters and it is very improbable that such methods will be used in putting down the Ashe trouble. The general, however, does not agree with the diagnosis of chairman Frank A. Linney that the men who have refused to report for service are almost entirely outsiders. He thinks, basing his opinion on the statements of friends of these boys, that they are native young fellows who have not comprehended the seriousness of their conduct and remain away largely because they don't understand.

Governor Bickett left on the morning train for North Wilkesboro and from there he expected to drive to West Jefferson to speak today. Placarding of the county from tip to tip has advertised his speaking date in great fashion. When Governor Bickett spoke in Green county a week ago, the oldest inhabitant declared that no such crowd had been seen since the last public hanging which was highwater mark for rubberneckism. What is the big crowd record in Ashe has not been vouchsafed here, but the governor doubtless has a chance to match the best there.

In view of his absence without leave, Mrs. H. A. Hayes, wife of the absconding steward of the Methodist orphanage, urges Governor Bickett to pardon Hayes since he must be gone for good.
The request is typical of the influence which the very bad fellow has had. That Hayes has Mrs. Hayes hypnotized, all hands seem to agree. There is a tendency to excuse the fellow's runaway by pleading insanity. He has had a chance to get out on that plea, but that meant detention elsewhere and insanity pleas are interposed generally to save somebody's neck.

Governor Bickett and his whole force are mystified at the whole business. They think Hayes undoubtedly has been financed in his getaway, but by whom the office here does not position to believe the announcement of a pardon would somehow catch-up with a gentleman who led a very fast life until he came here to take up a very sedentary and confining position, and now travels at a fair rate of speed.

Judge George P. Pell of the corporation commission was able to return to his office Friday after absence of three weeks which was spent in bed, not in Washington, occasional resort for public officials.
The judge has been quite ill to which a paralytic affliction added made work uptown impossible. He seems much improved though shy much flesh which he carried home when stricken anew. All the important hearings had been held and no public matters had been delayed by reason of his trouble.
The Southern Bell Telephone hearing which was to have taken place July 2, has been moved to July 9 at which time it is expected that the big New York officials, the final and infallible proof of the desperate financial condition of this terribly persecuted company, will be here to produce figures.

French Ace Wounded.
Paris, June 29.—Lieutenant Mezergues, of the air service, one of the noted French aces who escaped from prison in Germany and resumed his flights, has been seriously wounded in a fight with an enemy airplane, the Havas Agency reports. The bomb thrower on Mezergues' machine was killed in the encounter.
