

Article About Dr. Lapham In St. Augustine Newspaper

An article about Dr. Mary E. Lapham, well known specialist in the treatment of tuberculosis who has been a summer visitor at Highlands for a number of years, appeared recently in the St. Augustine, Fla., Record. The article follows:

"Dr. Mary E. Lapham is one of the pioneers in the modern treatment of tuberculosis. She is a winter visitor to Florida and though retired from active practice, still retains her interest in treating tuberculosis by collapsing the diseased lung by injection of air. This is known as artificial pneumothorax. "Dr. Lapham was one of the first physicians in the United States to adopt this treatment. When she began its use in 1909, in her tuberculosis sanatorium in Highlands, N. C., the collapse of the lung was not in general use and a great deal of skepticism on the part of the medical profession was manifested. Now it is used in a high percentage of cases.

"Dr. Lapham successfully combated this skepticism by demonstration of her results, articles in medical journals and by talks, before medical societies. She trained many of the physicians now doing outstanding work in this line of treatment. Dr. Lapham is a winter resident of St. Augustine, making her home at No. 6 South Street.

Pattern 8400: Young girls have decided ideas about what they like and what they do not like and we feel quite sure that the style sketched is decidedly one of those they like.

The lines in the dress are graceful and interesting. The waist and sleeve sections are cut in one except the flaring lower edge of the puff sleeve which is fitted to the arm with an elastic band.

The skirt is mounted onto the pointed yoke which fits the hips snugly. Panels in front and back of the skirt flare slightly at the lower edge, and retain the slender line.

Buckle and buttons constitute the sole trimming of this neat and popular frock.

The material could be plain woolen for the body of the dress combined with plaid silk—or printed and plain crepe.

Growing Food On Farm Bettors Family Living

The cash earnings of live-at-home farmers are only a small part of their real income, says Dr. C. Horace Hamilton rural sociologist at the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station.

In fact, he says, the incomes of farm families compare favorably with those for average industrial families when account is taken of all the benefits provided by the farm.

A recent survey of 98 farm families and 57 representative industrial families showed that the average cash income of both groups was about $1,000 a year per family.

Aside from $40 worth of food obtained from small gardens, the industrial family had to buy all of its supplies out of the $1,000.

But the farm family obtained $540 worth of food and other living items from the farm. And it did not have to pay out cash for water, fuel, house rent and some food.

The farm family paid cash for 40 per cent of its living and obtained the other 60 per cent directly from the farm. The industrial family paid cash for 96 per cent of its living and got four per cent from the garden.

Dr. Hamilton points out that the more a farm family lives at home, the higher is its standard of living. Living at home also makes the farmer more independent of economic conditions in the rest of the world.

It is for this reason, he explains, that the New Deal programs for agriculture are stressing the self-sufficiency side of farming and encouraging rural rehabilitation subsistence homesteads, rural industrial villages, and the like.

CHEROKEES WIN FRANKLIN QUINT

Lacking Practice, All Stars Lose To Indians 24 to 42

In a fast and furious game from start to finish, the Cherokee Warriors defeated the Franklin All-Stars on the Indian's court Thursday night.

For the first two periods the Franklin boys gave the Red Skins a great battle, but went under during the last two periods. At the end of the first quarter the Franklin boys held an 8 to 6 lead and stayed in front until the closing minutes of the second quarter. At half time the score was 12 all. The All-Stars were playing under a great handicap by not having a court to practice on and were unable to jump in the lead during the second half and were exhausted before the game was over. Wallace starred in controlling the tip-off and collecting 8 points to his credit. Bryson played a good game at guard and was outstanding in taking the ball off of the back boards. While Dalrymple, Grant and Moore played a good floor game.

The Wahentah brothers played best for Cherokee.

The line-up:
Cherokee (42) Pos. Franklin (24)
L. Wahentah (12) F (6) Dalrymple

A. Wahentah (12) C. (8) Wallace
