DR. BEDINGER HOLDING MEETINGS IN HIGHLANDS

Dr. R. D. Bedinger, superintendent of home missions in Asheville Presbytery, is in Highlands this week conducting a series of meetings on stewardship. Dr. Bedinger opened services Sunday morning with a sermon at the Methodist church, to the combined congregations of Presbyterians, Methodists and others. At this service the Brevard college quartette rendered special music. Services are being held at the Presbyterian church every night at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Bedinger was for eighteen years a Presbyterian missionary in the Belgian Congo, and is an extremely interesting talker on the subject of missionary work there. Next Sunday night Dr. Bedinger will give an account of his experiences while in Africa, and will tell how he helped to establish the first Methodist mission in the Belgian Congo in 1913. Every one is invited to hear this talk at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Dr. Bedinger expects to be in Franklin as soon as the Rev. J. A. Flanagan makes arrangements for him.

Navy Announces June Enlistment Quota

Thirty-four apprentice seamen will be enlisted in the United States navy from the Carolinas during the month of June, according to an announcement received from the navy recruiting station in Asheville. Part of this quota will be furnished by the Asheville station. The quotas are expected to be increased monthly, it was stated, and men who think they can meet the rigid physical examination and who are interested in joining the navy should apply immediately to the nearest navy recruiting station.

Mrs. Bertha Naylor and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ensley, of Asheville, spent Sunday here visiting their mother, Mrs. W. G. Wilkie.
