

MANY NEW HOMES BUILT AT HIGHLANDS

TOWN ENJOYS BUILDING BOOM

Business Section as Well As Residential Areas Improved

BY MRS. T. C. HARBISON
(Highlands Correspondent of The Press-Maconian)

There are approximately two hundred summer homes in and around Highlands, many of them erected in the past year and a half. Some are mere cottages and cabins, while others are estates and mansions of varied and distinctive architecture.

The names of some of these homes are very imaginative, of which Faraway, Kanonah, Highfield, The Waterwitch, Playmore, Poco No Mos, Cheeconda, Topside, Idylease, Kalalanta, Tangelwood, Kareska, Chetolah, Belle Vista, Shakmoore, Wolfridge, Midlinks, and The Hedges are only a few.

Many New Homes

During the past eighteen months there has been more building going on in Highlands than at any one time since the founding of the town. Among those who have built homes during this period are Evelyn Harris, Fred Hodgson and F. B. Cook, who have built on Bear Pen Mountain; C. F. Redden and Raymond McCarty have built in the Shortoff section; N. T. Ragland and J. C. Blanchard, Mirror Lake; G. D. Hopper, Foreman Road; J. M. Hall and Tudor N. Hall, 5th St.; L. G. Appley, three houses on Walhalla Road; Albert Rogers, two houses on Spring St.

At the Country Club are three new houses belonging to the club, and in the same section are new houses belonging to Fred McGonigal, Raymond Kline and James Floyd. Dr. E. E. Reinke is building on E. Main St.; new houses belonging to Mrs. Bertha Jones and Mrs. Flora Smith have been built on Cullasaja Drive; D. C. Black, and Mrs. K. V. Cranston have built on Satulah; S. T. Marrett, W. T. Champney and Mrs. K. R. Lummus have built in Lindenwood Park; Mrs. Henry G. Evans has built a new house and has remodeled the Young house on Kalalanta Road; George Cleaveland, S. C. Cresswell, and Fred Waller have new homes in Glendale; C. D. S. Clarkson and Prof. Holmes have new houses in the Mirror Lake section, and K. B. Zahner has built at Lake Sequoyah; Dr. O. E. Feaster in building a new house at Webbmont; Miss Rebecca Bridges, Fourth St.; and J. C. Buchanan, Indian Hills.

New Business Buildings

New business buildings are Hotel Edwards, Main and Fourth Sts.; Helen's Barn, dance hall, Main St.; Tally's Store, Main St.; Sinclair Service Station, Main St.; and Anderson's, Service Station, Fourth St. A Public Works project was the new Highlands school auditorium, which was completed last summer.

A number of people have remodeled or added new rooms to old buildings. A few of them are Mrs. Elizabeth P. Harkey, Mrs. R. N. Hughs, Mrs. H. G. Evans, J. E. Root, Scott Hudson (Cobb House), Mrs. Harry McCall, Mrs. Franklin Pugh and others.

It would be difficult to select any one of the above new buildings as being the most outstanding one built during the time stated. Perhaps Hotel Edwards, the New Sinclair Station, and the Auditorium have added more to the appearance of the town than others because they are centrally located, and are large buildings.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Kline, Belle Vista, is only one of many beautiful residences. The Kline place is so located that an unusually pretty view is seen from two directions, one looking south into the mountains of Georgia and South Carolina, and the other being a magnificent view of the mountains north of Highlands. The house itself is of green shingles outside, and with beautifully polished wood ceiling inside. The large fireplace in the continental living room is particularly pretty. The house is furnish-

Many Scientists To Attend Laboratory-Museum Meeting In Highlands This Week

A number of eminent scientists and educators from all parts of the country are expected in Highlands this week-end for the annual meeting of the Wayman Biological Laboratory and Museum.

Among those expected to attend are: W. T. Couch of the University of North Carolina Press; Dr. Harmon Caldwell, president of the University of Georgia; Dr. John Wade of the University of Georgia; Dr. Clifford Pope, prominent herpetologist of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City; Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Alexander, of Atlanta; Edward Rowan, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. L. R. Hessler, of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Harper, head of the biology department of Alabama State College; and Dr. and Mrs. Craig Barrow, of Hendersonville, N. C.

Dr. H. E. Wheeler, curator of the Highlands Museum, delivered an interesting lecture in the Highlands school auditorium last Sunday afternoon on the subject of "Shells and their Relation to Civilization."

Shells, Dr. Wheeler said, have played an important part in the life of man since earliest times. Shell fish have provided food for people living near the sea and shells have had their influence on religion, art, music, science and architecture.

Dr. Wheeler, who is from Birmingham, Ala., has done diligent work in the Highlands museum and his nature study club has been a delight to many people.

ing lots in desirable sections of the town, and in all directions on the outskirts.

The town seems to be building not only west, as is traditional, but also in northern, southern, and eastern sections.

TRUE EDWARDS DIES OF WOUND

Funeral for Highlands Man Conducted in Horse Cove

Funeral services for True G. Edwards, 29, of Highlands, who died at 9 o'clock Sunday morning in a hospital in Franklin, were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in Horse Cove, near Highlands.

The Rev. H. D. Jessup, pastor of the Highlands Methodist church, and the Rev. G. A. Hovis, of Rosman, officiated at the funeral. Pallbearers were brothers of Mr. Edwards: Dan, Eric, Cecil, John Wesley, Troy and Bruce Edwards. Burial was in the cemetery in Horse Cove.

Surviving Mr. Edwards are his widow and three children; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Edwards; three sisters, Miss Virginia Edwards, Mrs. Frank Dowdle and Miss Felicia Edwards; seven brothers, Floyd D. Edwards, of Pampa, Texas, and the six listed above as pallbearers, all of whom live in Highlands. Mr. Edwards, who was connected with Hill's Sinclair Service Station in Highlands, died as a result of a self-inflicted wound. He was hurriedly taken to a hospital in Franklin early Friday morning after the wound, caused by a bullet passing through his body just below the heart, had been inflicted. Mr. Edwards was a member of the Methodist church.

Etna

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Morrison, of Winston-Salem, are visiting Mr. Morrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morrison.

Residents of Etna are glad to know that John Clark has returned from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Barker left Tuesday to make their home in the eastern part of the state.

Miss Lois Bradley returned home Sunday to start school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parrish, of Franklin, spent Sunday with friends and relatives in this section.

Revival services are being conducted at Mt. Hope by the Rev. W. L. Bradley.

Mr. Harry Bryson and Miss Grace Bradley attended the baseball game in Franklin Sunday.

NOTICE!

To Delinquent Taxpayers For Any or All of the Years 1927-28-29-30-31-32

NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE TAX LIEN NOTES

The Board of County Commissioners has authorized me, under an Act of the 1935 General Assembly, to make out tax lien notes for delinquent taxpayers for the years listed above. The Board is anxious that this task be completed as soon as possible and I, therefore, urge and request that all delinquent taxpayers for these years take advantage of this opportunity at their earliest convenience.

The tax lien notes offer an opportunity to land owners to liquidate their unpaid taxes over a period of not exceeding six years; or if they desire to settle delinquencies for the years 1927 through 1932 by cash payments, they now can obtain a 10 per cent discount.

By making out tax lien notes those who are unable to pay delinquencies now can save their property from foreclosure and greatly reduce interest payments. Tax sales certificates bear interest from date of sale at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, while tax lien notes bear 6 per cent interest per annum from April 1, 1935.

By Taking Advantage of This Plan Delinquent Taxpayers Can Save Unnecessary Expense Or Possible Loss of Their Property

Clerk to the Macon County Board of Commissioners
