PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY CONDUCTS GARDEN TOUR

HIGHLANDS, Sept. 2.—A garden tour was conducted on Wednesday afternoon by the Women's Auxiliary of the Highlands Presbyterian church. The number of lovely homes visited included the Italian style estate of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sloan with its sweeping lawns and sunken garden; the log cabin mountain home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Brown; the unusually beautiful home of Col. and Mrs. J. S. Sewell, which is also in the log cabin style, set amid spacious stretches of lawn and plots of flowers; the early American home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Floyd.

The tour ended at the estate of Miss Marguerite Ravenel on Sunset Mountain, where one of the best views of the mountains in this vicinity was enjoyed from the porch while the guests were served a delicious tea. The proceeds from this tour, amounting to $28, were added to a fund being raised to put a new roof on the Presbyterian church.

to be completed by the incoming administration. This work consists of getting employment for unemployed veterans, procuring compensation for them, procuring pensions for the widows of deceased veterans, handling the disposition of the bodies of deceased veterans who have died away from home, and procuring information as to the condition and whereabouts of veterans who were injured in travel.

"This being the 'bonus year' it devolved upon our post to handle the applications of ex-service men for their adjusted compensation bonds. Applications for bonds were handled directly through this post, an office having been kept open for ex-service men throughout this administration.

"The above are the major activities in which this post has engaged during the past year which should convince the public at large that the American Legion's activities go farther than the promotion of the welfare of its own members.

"Further than this, one year ago, this post had no tangible property other than the loyalty of its members and some $20.00 in the bank. Since that time it has purchased its own permanent quarters consisting of the Johnson brick building. The upper story of this building has been thoroughly remodeled and the lower part is rented for a sufficient amount to liquidate the entire project and leave a monthly balance for maintenance, repairs and insurance. It has a complete kitchen and dining room equipment which has been purchased and is being paid, not from the dues of the members, but from the rents of this equipment and the hall. A $2,750.00 piano, a Steinway Concert Grand, has been purchased by the post.

"In making the above, I wish to let the credit be placed where it is due. For the building, we are largely indebted to the local lodge of the Masons from whom the property was purchased. They had a given amount of money tied up in the property and could have sold it to an individual at a handsome profit. Instead of doing this, they turned it over to the Legion for just what it cost them. If it had not been for this spirit of theirs our post would possibly still be homeless. The Rotary club also gave us quite a boost in the arrangement that they made pertaining to the equipment.

"As to the other activities and the growth of the post, this is not attributable to any one man, or group of men, but to the spirit of loyalty and the eagerness to serve of practically every member of the Legion."

200 AT OPENING OF TABERNACLE

Plans Announced for Revival Meeting to Start September 20

A large wooden tabernacle erected on Wayah street under the direction of the Rev. A. A. Angel, Methodist minister and tombstone manufacturer, was formally opened Sunday afternoon at a service attended by about 200 persons.

The building, with ground dimensions of 60 by 90 feet, will seat a congregation of 1,000 in addition to a choir of 100. Funds for construction of the building, which is erected on a site given by Mr. Angel, were raised by contributions from individuals of various denominational connections. Mr. Angel said the tabernacle would be interdenominational and intended to "encourage a greater and more active evangelism."

Mr. Angel preached the sermon at the opening service, taking as his text Jeremiah 4:15, "Set up the standard toward Zion." He emphasized the importance of raising the standard of Christian living in the town and county.

The Rev. C. C. Herbert, Jr., pastor of the Franklin Methodist church, gave the opening prayer; the Rev. Charlie Jennings, Baptist minister, spoke the closing prayer, and the Rev. George Cloer, Baptist minister, pronounced the benediction.

Selection of a name for the tabernacle was postponed until a later meeting. Mr. Angel also said that trustees for the tabernacle would be appointed later.

On September 20, Mr. Angel announced, a series of revival services will begin in the tabernacle under the leadership of the Rev. M. T. Hinshaw, of Rutherford college, Burke county. Services will be held twice daily for 10 days to two weeks. On weekdays the services will be at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. and on Sundays at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

On the two intervening Sundays before the revival opens, said, services will be in the tabernacle at 3 o'clock noon.
