MURDER CASE BEING ARGUED

ial couple. Mrs. Mathewson, he said, was 19 years old. Other witnesses, including Charlie Riddle, a cafe employe who had lived with the Mathewsons for several months, also said they regarded the Mathewsons as congenial.

Baby Now Dead

It was revealed in testimony of Mrs. Cole Ghormley, of Robbinsville, another state witness, that the Mathewson baby had died sometime after the slaying of its mother.

Witness Jailed

Judge Harding ordered Carter Riddle, a brother of Charlie Riddle and also employed by Mathewson in the cafe, sent to jail when he refused to answer a question put by a state's attorney whether he had sold liquor in the cafe. Carter, a defense witness, had previously testified that in his opinion Mathewson was insane.

A number of other defense witnesses also expressed opinions that Mathewson was mentally unbalanced. Among these was the defendant's father, the Rev. W. B. Mathewson, 64-year-old Methodist minister, who said his son's grandfather, great-grandfather and a great-uncle had become insane. He also said his son, who had been previously married and divorced, frequently had a wild look in his eyes and was a heavy drinker.

Dr. W. C. Morrow, of Andrews, who failed to qualify as a psychiatrist but who said he had made a special study of mental diseases for 27 years, expressed the opinion that Mathewson was a paranoiac.

The state introduced several witnesses at the conclusion of the trial to refute the defense testimony regarding insanity.

in service for others, in health of mind and body to fit us for better service, and worldwide friendship. For this reason we are joining the American Junior Red Cross. We will help make its work successful in our school and community, and will work together with Juniors everywhere in our own and other lands."

In an effort to cut down the amazing total of more than 30,000 fatalities resulting from accidents in the home each year, the Red Cross has taken steps to eliminate hazards from millions of homes. Last year 10,000,000 American homes were self-inspected as a result of this campaign, and a similar program will be pushed this year. Through education and inspection, farm work mishaps are also being minimized.

And so the American Red Cross brings to America the benefit of its organized effort to make life saner, healthier and happier. Red Cross resources and organization reach into hundreds of communities meeting need where need is greatest. The need for the Red Cross is greater than ever before. Preventable accidents of certain types are increasing; disease and epidemic spread their blight over new areas; nature on the rampage haunts familiar places and strikes where she has not struck before. With justifiable pride the Red Cross points to past accomplishments and urges new memberships so that its works of mercy may be geared to the increasing need. Reader, if you have NOT joined, do so NOW.
