SCHOOL NEWS

As one thing of interest in this section of The Press each week, it is intended to report the various activities which are going on at the school. This week special consideration is given to the sixth and seventh grades. Next week two other grades will be given attention.

The seventh grade will have 12 new seats in its room this year. Four pupils from Scaly are students at the Highlands school this year for the first time, and are being made welcome in the seventh grade. Work books are being used in four subjects - Arithemetic, Geography, History and English. This is possible this year because the state is furnishing the basal text-books, leaving the children better able to purchase their work-books. Art is being correlated with all seventh grade subjects, English, geography, etc. Daily reports of current events are teaching the students to read the newspapers and magazines profitably, and to be able to give coherent and complete reports. Dictionary games aid in more frequent and intelligent use of the dictionary. The class is making a chart of the qualities which build the characters of boys and girls. They are also studying the gifts to civilization which have come from the Greeks and Romans, On Friday, October 1, the seventh grade will present its first chapel program this term. Three short plays will be given: "Aunt Doleful's Ail-ments"-six characters; "Bold for the Right"-three characters, and "Fish to Nut"-two characters. Parents; and friends of the children are invited to these chapel programs to see exactly what is being done, Mrs. J. E. Brown is the teacher of the seventh grade, and the students are Margie Neeley, Frank Dryman, Darfiels, Georgia; James McConnel, Jimmie McKinncy, Archie Picklesimer, Eugene Potts, Atlas Vinson, Borah Wright Malcome Zoellner, Reba Beal, Maggie May Crane, Doris Garland, Alice Gibson, Mary Hunt, Clara Belle Miller, Lois Munger, Marie Neeley, Marion Norton, Jessie Potts, Margaret Rogers, Francis Wilson, Louise Wilson, Velma Wilson, Fred Littleton, Bernice Zachary. the sixth grade occupies the new class room which has been added this year. The room has an eastern exposure on the second floor and with its newly painted furniture is light and cheerful. There are still many things to be added before it is complete. New window shades are to be hung; blackboards to be put up on two walls; new desks and seats to replace old ones; a library table for the back of the room; and a "greenery" for plants and goldfish, instead of the usual 1 otted plants and fish bowl. In the library at the back of the room will be books for pleasure as well as for reference. Current newspapers will be available on the table for practice in reading other items than the comic strips. The class has subscribed to the St. Nicholas Magazine for its own enjoyment. As a feature of their geography class the pupils are taking an imnginary trip to the British Isles. Miss Florence Crutchfield is the teacher of the sixth grade and the pupils are Mary Appley, LaVerne guest of honor was the recipient Little Yellow mountain.

Crisp, Marie Houston, Christine Jenkins, Marie McCall, Leona Norton, Wilma Owens, Edna Phillips, Dorothy Rogers, Helena Speed, Estelle Talley, Eva Talley, Mary Talley, Florence Waller, Allie Fair webb, Ella Wilson, Neville Bryson, Ernest Bidd Burton, J. C. Hicks, Elcany Jenkins, Christopher Me-Call, Frank McCall, Herbert Paul, Koy Potts, Wayne Reese, Lewis Talley, Joe Waller.

Special attention of the parents is called to the fact that although the State is this year furnishing the basal text-books, the pubils are required to buy their work-books and supplies such as pencils, paper, etc. The supplementary readers may be rented from the state for from 50 cents to 70 cents per year, per grade. With the purchase of all work-books and supplies which each child needs the efficiency of the child increases 25 per cent and it becomes much easier for the teacher to present her subjects in a satistactory manner.

Mrs. Helen Thompson, supervisor of the lunch room, has announced that the lunch room will be open on Monday, September 27. The cost of the meals will be the same as last year. Either money or produce, which will be paid for at market price, will be accepted as payment for meals.

Great improvement has been made in the girls' rest room. The floor of the room has been painted a bright red, the lower part of the walls is a bright green and the upper part of the walls is white. Someone is being paid by the P.-T: A, to see that the basement is cleaned every day and that everything is in order. The bright colors are much more cheerful than were the gray concrete walls as they were originally.

MUSIC PUPILS ORGANIZE CLUB

The music pupils of Mrs. O. F. Summer met at her home on September 15 to organize a music club. The following officers were elected: President, Mozelle Bryson, vicepresident, Virginia Edwards, and secretary, Marie Neely.

· The organization was formed for group study of great composers and for social contacts. Delicious refreshments were served with Mrs. Summer as hostess. At each club meeting, members of the club will have opportunities to be hostess. At the first meeting, the club studied Beethoven. The next composer to be studied is Haydn.
