SENATE BLOCKS SPENDING BILL

Opposes House Increases; May Prevent Early Adjournment

The General Assembly, which seemed to be speeding toward sine die adjournment the first of the week, struck a snag Wednesday when the senate appropriations committee unanimously refused to support the compromise spending measure which had been passed by the house.

The measure as received from the house boosted the biennial allotments for educational institutions and increased the appropriations for teachers' salaries, the advertising fund and several other items, the increases totaling approximately $500,000. The senate appropriations committee refused a favorable report on the bill on the ground that it would throw the budget out of balance by about $873,828.

The revenue bill which will receive final action today (Thursday), will not be further amended, and it is contended by the senate economy bloc that the only way in which the budget can be balanced is to trim the appropriations to fit the estimated revenue. The revolt in the senate is expected to prevent early adjournment, as the appropriations measure will probably be so amended that it will have to go to a conference committee before final passage.

Board Of Education Bill Passes

Representative George B. Patton's bill to increase the board from three to five members has passed both houses and will become law upon ratification. The new board will be sworn in the first Monday in April and is named in the bill as follows: C. Tom Bryson, James L. Hauser, W. E. Mozeley, Miss Lassie Kelly and Mrs. Fred Slagle.

Many local measures are on the house and senate calendars and many more are being introduced each day. These bills, however, will not delay adjournment, for most of them are non-controversial and can be put through in short order when the appropriation bill is out of the way.

They are nominated at county meetings and elected at the general meeting of stockholders of the entire organization, which this year is to be held Saturday, March 25, in Asheville. Nominations usually are tantamount to election. In addition to the regular directors the federation has seven directors-at-large. The other regular director from Macon county, besides Mr. Franklin, is Carl S. Slagle, whose term extends for another year.

Weaver W. Landrum, 43, was drowned in the surf at Daytona Beach, Fla., last Friday morning about 11 o'clock. He was employed as truck driver by the Pure Oil company at Daytona Beach, and had just come in from a trip when the accident occurred. He went in for a swim, and it is thought that he was taken with cramp, probably on account of being hot from his work. Strenuous efforts were made to revive him but to no avail.

Mr. Landrum was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Landrum, of Cullasaja, and had been working in Florida for the past eight months. He had spent most of his life in Macon county and was a member of the Salem Methodist church. He was a World War veteran and saw service in France with the 81st division.

LOT TENDERED FOR BUILDING

Dr. Furman Angel Offers Land For Community Structure

Dr. Furman Angel has offered the gift of a lot for the erection of the proposed community building on the corner of Main and River-view streets, now a part of the spacious grounds of Angel Brothers Hospital.

This lot, which fulfills every requirement for a community center in location and beauty of surroundings as well as adaptability to future development will be deeded by Dr. Angel as soon as a sponsor is obtained to meet the requirements of the Works Progress Administration, which has authorized the allotment of $8,251 for the building. The sponsor is required to furnish 40 per cent in materials and cash.

In stating his purpose to a representative of The Press, upon learning that the town had no suitable lot to offer, Dr. Angel said, "It would be a tragedy for Franklin to lose this wonderful opportunity to obtain a community building, which is one of the greatest needs. I shall be glad to deed as much land as is needed for the present and future plans of this civic undertaking. I believe that Franklin is destined to grow to many times its present size, and I have confidence in our citizens that we will cooperate to give our town the advantage this project will bring to the town and county."

Among the students here for the spring holidays from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are: Winton Perry, Neville Sloan, Jr., John Crawford, Jimmy Perry, Bobby Sloan, and William S. Johnson.

Work Expected To Begin In Two Weeks On $51,000 Job

A message was received Saturday at WPA area headquarters in Franklin stating that the water and sewer extension project, which has been under consideration for some time, had been approved, and Mayor Guy L. Houk says that work is expected to begin in about two weeks.

The project provides funds to the amount of $51,000, the government paying 55 per cent and the town of Franklin 45 per cent. This project, together with the street and sidewalk improvement work which is now under way, brings the total allotted for work in the town to $106,484, and it is stated that the water and sewer jobs will provide work for most of the unemployed who are now on the WPA rolls in this county.

The town will have $17,000 for water extension and $6,000 for sewer work available from the bonds which were voted last September, and the WPA allotment of $28,000 will make up the total of $51,000 which the work is expected to cost.

It is understood that the water and sewer extensions to be made will be practically as announced before the bond election, which were as follows:

Water storage elevated tank of 125,000 gallons capacity. Six-inch water mains as follows:

Oak street to Riverview street, 3 fire hydrants.

Bidwell street from west Main street to Harrison avenue, 2 fire hydrants.

Lyle street west from Bidwell street to Green street, 1 fire hydrant.

West Main street to city limits, 2 fire hydrants.

Atlanta highway extension to city limits, 3 fire hydrants.

Wayah street and Hill Crest Drive (Bonny Crest), 3 fire hydrants.

First street (East Franklin) to city limits, 2 fire hydrants.

Church street main connected with Harrison avenue 8 inch main.

Palmer street main connected with Main street 8 inch main.

These 6 inch mains and fire hydrants, with additional storage, would give Franklin third class fire rating instead of fourth class.

Sewer Extensions

Extend main sewer from Porter street west up the creek to near Green street; up West Boulevard to Lyle street and Bidwell street, then to Harrison avenue, taking all sewage out of Town creek except for a very small number of residences.

With the exception of a few skilled men on the water extensions, all labor will be furnished by WPA, and the job is expected to last for several months.
