500 AT IOTLA HOME COMING

Many Enjoyable Features On All-Day Program Last Sunday

Approximately 500 people gathered at the Iotla Baptist church on Sunday to observe Home Coming Day.

The morning's program was opened with the devotional being led by the Rev. D. C. McCoy, of the Oak Grove community, who also made a brief talk on church unity and church cooperation.

The Rev. W. L. Bradley, also of the Oak Grove community and a retired Baptist minister, spoke on the erection and organization of the Iotla Baptist church in 1906. He was elected as the first pastor and served seven consecutive years. At that time preaching services were held once a month, while today they are holding four services each month, two prayer services held in the homes each week, a thriving Sunday school, an up-and-coming Baptist Training Union and an active Woman's Missionary society.

At the time the church was organized there were 26 members and today they have a membership of 256. It is the second strongest church in the Macon county Baptist association, of 35 Baptist churches. The Rev. R. F. Mayberry is the present pastor and lives in the Iotla community.

Mr. Bradley also paid great tribute to the late John B. Ramsey, who did more toward the erection of this church than any other one man in that community, and urged the members to place a memorial window in the church, in appreciation of the service he rendered the Iotla community.

The Rev. R. P. McCracken, of Clyde, in Haywood county, and a former pastor, preached the Home Coming sermon, using as his text, "That Jesus Christ Is the Same Today, Tomorrow and Forever."

Following the bounteous picnic lunch served on the church lawn, the crowd reassembled for the remainder of the program.

The Rev. Harry S. Williams, pastor of the Franklin circuit, spoke on the Influence of the Christian Home, placing strong emphasis on what it meant in the child's life to be brought up in a home of this type.

Paul Swafford, superintendent of the Sunday school, spoke briefly on the present condition of the church. His major emphasis included the social moral, education, spiritual development and membership, while the main object of the church's work was winning lost souls to Christ.

Miss Marion Moody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Moody, of Asheville, gave a very enjoyable reading, "The Cabin Is Empty Again."

The Rev. George A. Cloer preached the closing sermon at 8 o'clock, using as his text, "I Am the Way, the Truth and the Life." At the closing of the services a number dedicated their life to the service of the Lord.

There were visitors present from all sections of the county including both Methodist and Baptist, Buncombe county, Mt. Holly, Belmont, Gastonia, Haywood county, Clayton, Ga., Tennessee and California.

The mayor and aldermen of Franklin met Monday night for the regular monthly session and several matters came up for discussion, but there was no important action taken other than routine approval of bills, etc.

The question of a blue law for the town was discussed, and it was proposed to forbid Sunday baseball and bank night at the theatre, and also to stop the sale of beer and wine on Sunday and to ban all slot and so-called amusement machines. No action was taken, but it is understood that the town attorney was instructed to take up the matter and make investigation so that a blue law might be presented for consideration by the board.

FINE WEAVING DONE AT KYLE

NYA Center Carries Wool From Raw State To Finished Product

A visitor at the Kyle weaving center of the Macon county NYA will enjoy the unusual sight of seeing the wool from local farmers' sheep passing through all the stages to beautiful designs for rugs, coverlets and other household needs.

Five of the six looms—which were made by the NYA boys—were busy on Labor Day, each working on a different design in varied colors of the yarn, some of which was still damp from the dye pot. All yarn is dyed at the center as soon as it is spun, much of it with natural dyes made by NYA young people. On this day they were making samples of the designs used to send for the NYA exhibit at the state fair this fall. Among the patterns being made on the looms at this time are Whig rose, Holland chain, desert rose; sun, moon and stars; pine cone, wind flowers, Solomon's delight, chariot wheel.

Three girls were on the porch carding the raw wool, which was immediately passed into the house to the girl skillfully spinning on an old spinning wheel, reconditioned by the NYA boys in their shop nearby.

The six looms are used alternately by the 16 girls at present working on this project who take turns according to schedule. Two girls weave at home also. Two boys were working in the shop which is equipped with carpenter's bench and forge and anvil.

The schedule of work for NYA enrollees is on a 40 hour a week basis, with a two year maximum period of employment. E. N. Evans, who obtained his training at the Penland Weaving School near Spruce Pine, directed by Lucy Morgan, a former Macon county woman, is the instructor; dividing his time between the Franklin and Kyle centers. Mrs. Margaret Ordway supervises the work and registers young people who can qualify under NYA regulations.

This center has been made possible by the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hicks, who donate a tenant house and log store house for the weaving center and shop. Both buildings have been enlarged and improved to meet the needs of the work, Mr. Hicks furnishing materials.

The location is convenient for boys and girls in the two Nantahala townships who, on account of distance and bad roads, do not have advantages of those in other sections of the county.

Flames of War Ravage Europe

Germany Seizes Danzig and Invades Poland—Great Britain and France Enter Struggle—Germans Sink Liner Carrying 1,400 Passengers—Polish Cities Bombed

What it is feared will develop into another World War began last Friday morning when Germany seized the free city of Danzig and invaded Poland, thus forcing Great Britain and France to rush to the aid of the Poles in accordance with a military alliance previously consummated.

Owing to the rigid censorship imposed by all of the warring powers, it is impossible to secure accurate information in regard to happenings in the various theaters of conflict, and it will become increasingly difficult as the struggle goes on, but we give below a short summary of the principal events up to this (Thursday) morning:

Friday, September 1—Hitler announced to Nazi reichstag that Germany had annexed Danzig and invaded Poland. Fighting started at 5:45 a. m. On the same day Poland invoked its military alliance with Britain and France and called for aid.

German planes bombed Warsaw and other Polish cities the same day, killing many civilians—men, women and children.

Saturday, September 2—Great Britain and France dispatched ultimatums to Germany stating that if German troops were not withdrawn from Poland it would be considered that a state of war existed between Germany and the nations of Great Britain and France.

Sunday, September 3—The time limit on the British and French demands having expired, the premiers of both nations announced the existence of a state of war.

Monday, September 4—The British liner Athenia, carrying 1,400 passengers bound for Canada, including many Americans, torpedoed and sunk off the coast of Scotland by a German submarine. Estimated 49 killed by explosion and the remainder rescued by naval and other vessels.

Tuesday, September 5—British warplanes bombed German battle-ships in the entrance of the Kiel Canal in North Germany, and France struck against the German lines on the western front to relieve the pressure on Poland. No general advance was made and the French were evidently feeling for weak spots in the line, preparatory to a heavy offensive.

Spain declared neutrality and Japan announced intention of keeping out of the European struggle.

Wednesday, September 6—President issued proclamation of neutrality and declared embargo on shipments of war materials to belligerent nations.

Warsaw, Polish capital, was evacuated by government officials and representatives of foreign powers, and was reported partially destroyed by Nazi bombardment. Many other cities said to be suffering heavy damage from Germany aircraft.

Thursday, September 7—Germans are advancing steadily into Poland, and express surprise at the weak resistance offered by the Poles. Polish army is digging in to defend Warsaw.

German high command states that no advance will be attempted on the western front as Germany has no interest in that direction. Troops are expected to stay in the forts along the Siegfried line and force the French and English to take the offensive. There is little action reported in that sector.

Britain is tightening the naval blockade of Germany and reports the sinking of three German merchant ships.

Italy remains neutral and is expected to stay out of the war for the time being, having nothing to gain and everything to lose by entering the struggle at this time.

Gastonia Baseball Team To Play Two Games Here

Next Saturday and Sunday the well known and popular Gastonia baseball team is scheduled to come to Franklin for two games, and a large attendance is expected.

The Franklin team took a rather one-sided game from the Gastonia All-Stars by a score of 8 to 1 last Sunday afternoon, most of the Franklin runs being accounted for by errors of the visiting team.

On Labor Day the Franklin players were split into two teams, one going to Canton to carry out an obligation made three months ago for a return game with that team, and the remainder of the local boys stayed at home to play the Asheville All-Stars. The home field was too wet to use by the time the Asheville team arrived, and the game was played at the Otto CCC camp, and resulted in a score of 2 to 0 in favor of the visitors. Franklin was also shut out in the Canton game.

The matter of reopening the sewing rooms was discussed, but no action was taken, it being considered that the county budget would not stand the expenditure of the entire amount required for the project.
