U. S. Navy Recruiting In Franklin April 7-9

A representative of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Service will be at the postoffice building, Franklin, from April 7 to April 9, inclusive, from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily, for the purpose of interviewing prospective applicants and receiving applications for enlistment in the U. S. Navy. An unlimited number of applications will be received, and those who are accepted may be certain of enlistment at an early date. Applicants who are now attending school may wait until the end of the present school term before actually being enlisted if they so desire.

To join the Navy, a man must be between the ages of 17 and 31, have completed not less than the seventh grade in school, be without dependents, and have the consent of his parents for enlistment. The Navy at the present time has over 170,000 enlisted men. The needs for the "Two Ocean Navy" in 1945 or 1946 will be over 500,000 men. Hence, these young men who enlist now or in the near future will not only receive highly specialized training in various fields, but are the ones most likely to obtain the greatest degree of advancement during the period of expansion.

The second quarterly conference of the Macon circuit at the new Asbury church, Sunday night, April 6, at 7:30 o'clock.

Arto-genic

The New York Art Students League has named Brenda Marshall, film starlet, as the most arto-genic actress in Hollywood. Arto-genic, in case you don't know, means she is the most suited to an artist's standards of bone structure, coloring and personality.

Public Warned Against Unlicensed Schools

Federal Security Administrator McNutt warned persons interested in vocational training for defense jobs to beware of unlicensed commercial schools "guaranteeing" jobs to persons who pay "stiff fees" to take their courses. Persons who are interested in training should see the nearest office of the State employment service or write to the State vocational education department.

Dr. Rogers, Supt. Houk Speakers At Teachers Banquet

Last Friday evening the spacious dining room of Panorama Courts was filled to the doors with the Macon county teachers and their guests. The 180 people were seated at long tables gaily decorated with crepe paper. The theme of the banquet was "Defense" and a red, white and blue color motif was carried out in the decorations—from the American flags on the walls to the tiny silk flags at each place. Much careful planning and work had been done to produce the attractive paper mint basket and program at each table.

At the speaker's table, seated before an immense American flag was the presiding officer of the Macon county Teachers Association, Miss Nora Moody, who was a capable and inspiring master of ceremonies. The party was a gay affair to the very end.

Dean Bird Chief Speaker

Dean W. E. Bird, of Western Carolina Teachers College, Cullowhee, delivered a thoughtful message, as is his custom. He indicted all teachers—including himself—for having too narrow a concept of education, limiting it to the training of the mind and not the hands. He pointed out that it is an established fact that North Carolina must stand by and with other states to get large defense factories.

"North Carolina has not kept up with the other states in producing skilled workers; teachers and educators must wake up to the fact that North Carolina is producing only two classes, namely, unskilled labor and white collar job seekers," the speaker said. "Today's demand is for neither of these. The need is for skilled workers—men and women who can think while they build with their hands. Teachers cannot change the present system until told to do so by their superiors, but they can guide the children and mould their ambition to become a skilled worker rather than a bookkeeper." Dean Bird said that expert carpenters, stone masons, plumbers and other skilled craftsmen were very difficult to find, while there were many job seekers in the common class and white collar group.

Dr. J. L. Stokes II offered the invocation and all sang "America." The Franklin Choral Club sang Dvorak's "Goin' Home", directed by Mrs. James Averell. The male quartette of the Choral society, consisting of Hawkins, Stokes, Harley Cabe and Mendenhall sang "Roll Dem Bones" and all joined in singing "The Old North State" and "God Bless America."

Preceding the principal address by Dean Bird Dr. W. A. Rogers, Macon's representative in the General Assembly, gave a brief outline of what that body had done during the 1941 session, and assured the teachers that he was giving active support to improving their working conditions. He added to the evening's entertainment by telling several jokes that also emanated from the legislators, according to the doctor.

Guy L. Houk, county superintendent of schools, urged the teachers to take the offensive in training their pupils to be self-reliant in preparation for the post-war period. "Teach the children to be glad to work, to save, to invest wisely." He stated that he did not approve of WPA, NYA and other government help. He reviewed the fundamentals of democracy and stated that the teachers should lose no opportunity to awaken in the children an appreciation of democracy's privileges and responsibilities.

Mrs. Jessie Horsley was chairman of arrangements for the banquet. This delightful affair was enjoyed by all. The banquet closed with the singing of "Good Night, Ladies."

One Motor Fatality In Macon In 1941

Figures released from the Highway Safety Division show that one fatality was recorded for Macon county in 1940 and one for 1941. As compared with neighboring counties, the 1941 record of Jackson, 1; Graham, 1; Transylvania, 1; Clay, Cherokee and Swain, none.

An increase throughout the state of traffic accidents is shown, but this cannot be attributed to increased national defense activities, says Ronald Hocutt, director of the Highway Safety Division.

"Only 12 of the 175 traffic deaths in the state during January and February could be attributed to national defense activity," he said. "In view of the heavy volume of traffic and vast movements of materials, this number indicates that the defense program is not a great factor in the accident situation."

"The really big factors were carelessness, recklessness and speed. What we need in the way of defense is a greater number of drivers who are interested in the defense of lives of travelers on the road."

Purebred Calves Offered For Essays

An opportunity for farm boys and girls to win purebred dairy calves for writing essays about the value of purebred livestock is being sponsored by the five purebred dairy cattle associations and the Southern Planter magazine.

Dr. Paul Sanders, editor of the Southern Planter, formerly announced the contest in the March issue of the magazine. The contest will end May 31, 1941. Boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 20, inclusive, are eligible to compete.

The dairy breed associations cooperating are: The Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Brandon, Vermont; the Brown Swiss Breeders' Association of Beloit, Wis.; the American Guernsey Cattle Club of Peterborough, N. H.; the Holstein-Friesian Association of Battleboro, Vermont; and the American Jersey Cattle Club of New York City.

Walker Youth To Training School

Frank Walker, 14, of the Cullasaja section, was sent last Tuesday to the Stonewall Jackson Training school, by Juvenile Court Judge, Harley Cabe.

The boy, whose father is dead, and whose mother has married again, has been in trouble a number of times, it was learned principally involving small thefts. After stealing two bicycles and being caught breaking into Wiley Clark's filling station, he was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Dills, and brought before the juvenile court judge.

Funeral Held For Watts Infant

Funeral services for Ted Wayne Watts, sixteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Watts, were held on Sunday morning at the Gillespie Chapel. The Rev. Claude Ledford, a minister of the South Skeenah community, was in charge of the services. Burial was in the church cemetery.

The little child died at the home of his parents on South Skeenah on Saturday morning at 3 o'clock from pneumonia following measles.

Surviving besides the parents are three brothers and one sister, the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dock Watts and Mrs. Charlie Hodgins.
