FISHING SEASON OPENS APRIL 26

Forest Service Bulletin Lists Wildlife Areas And Regulations

The Cooperative Wildlife Management Areas within the Nantahala National Forest will again be open to fishing on substantially the same basis as they were operated last year.

The area nearest to Franklin is the Wayah Game Area, which proved to be extremely popular with residents of Franklin last year. The Cowceta Area at the Otto CCC Camp should offer some excellent fishing this year and has been highly recommended. It is easily accessible and affords brook and rainbow fishing on the lower waters, and brook trout in the upper streams,

Fishing Permits These areas are managed cooperatively by the North Carolina Division of Game and Inland Fish-

Project Of NYA To Open Next Week

The Home Service Project, of the National Youth Administration, which the cooking and sewing center will be called, will open next week, Mrs. Margaret Ordway, county supervisor, announced Monday. The Higdon house next to the Macon theatre, which is owned by the county, was designated by the county commissioners for the use of the project at their March meeting.

The state NYA is supplying an electric range and refrigerator, cooking utensils, and dishes; also sewing machines and other equipment. Chairs, tables and other used furniture that NYA boys can repair are needed. Friends who are interested are asked to donate anything in this line they may have. A card sent to Box 381, Franklin, will bring a truck to pick up whatever is donated.

Help To Farmers For Home And Defense

During the present world crisis, each true American citizen has a very definite obligation to fill, and even though the farmer may not be called upon to serve actively in military service or to work in plants that manufacture articles needed in the defense program, he still has a most important task and part in our program.

It is a recognized fact that the armed forces and those engaged in the manufacture of defense weapons, etc., must be fed and clothed. Therefore, the farmer should put forth his best efforts by producing sufficient feed, food and other crops to meet these needs as well as those of his own At the same time, his activities and his program should be so planned as to conserve and build up his lands, which is one of our greatest inheritances.

In agriculture as well as in every field of our National Defense Program, the government is lending every assistance possible. The extension service through the county agents is to assist the farmer in planning a balanced farming program, and the Farm Credit Administration through its agencies is assisting in financing the farmer's program.

We are informed by S. R. Griffin, Jr., field supervisor of the emergency crop and feed loan office of the farm credit administration, that his organization stands ready to be of financial assistance to all farmers who are eligible and in need of production loans. Applications may be placed at clerk of court's office in Franklin.

Garden Club With Mrs. Angel

On Monday the Franklin Garden Club met in the attractive home of Mrs. T. W. Angel, with Mrs. Joe Dowdle as assisting hostess.

The nominating committees choice of four members to hold office this coming year was accepted; president, Mrs. T. Angel; vice-president, Mrs. L. H. Page; secretary, Mrs. James L. Averell; treasurer, Mrs. C. Dowdle.

There were 15 members present, and guests were Mrs. William B. McGuire, Mrs. J. L. Stokes and

Mrs. J. Ward Long. For the program Mrs. James Averell gave a timely talk on Birds in the Garden." "Birds are Schedule of Masses: not only interesting additions to a garden, because of their gay plumage, cunning habits, and beautiful song, but they also eat beetles, and other insects which destroy the flowers," said Mrs. Averell.

Pictures of birds from the National Geographic Magazine were shown and various ways of keeping birds in the garden were suggested, such as planting special shrubs which bear edible fruits, feeding shelters. Bird houses shell tered from the winds and bird baths were also suggested. A biography of Audubon, who spent his entire life studying birds, was sketched. Mrs. Averell closed her program with a song, "Brown Bird Singing" by Hayden Wood. Pictures of flower arrangements, sent by Mrs. Angie Cox, were shown.

'Farm Cleanup Week'

A "Farm Cleanup Week" during these early days in April is suggested by Dr. C. D. Grinnells, State college veterinarian. should set our goal," he said, "at a 20 per cent reduction in liveinfecting barns and farm lots."

The veterinarian says that at least one-fifth of today's annual loss of baby pigs, calves and other When making drip coffee, if the livestock could be saved if every water seems to seep through more farmer would join in this effort. slowly than usual examine the Old barnyards and dirty livestock quarters hawbor millions of germs of livestock diseases-such as cholera, enteritis, erysipelas, and other fatal livestock plagues. These germs are passed from one generation of livestock to another until quarters are properly cleaned.

Dr. Grinnells says that the American Foundation for Animal Health is sponsoring a nation-wide "Farm Cleanup" campaign. Among the major objectives are: Clean and disinfect all buildings used by livestock; fence or fill old mudholes and wallows; burn old straw stacks; board up holes and burrows beneath buildings; fence off manure piles, which are major sources of parasite infec-tion; scrub feed boxes and poultry roots with hot lye water; eradicate rats mice, pigeon, and sparrows; disinfect poultry houses and

Due to higher hog prices this year, Dr. Grinnells says that wise farmers will use extra care to prevent baby pig losses at farrowing time, and to have pigs immunized against cholera as early as possible. Raising of pigs on fresh pasture, away from old hog lots, is also a profitable practice.

"The Nation is being called upon to increase its livestock production for National Defense," the veterinarian declared, "and farm cleanup week can be a large factor in preventing costly disease losses if all farmers will cooperate.
