Men enlisting in the Navy are sent to the Naval training station, Norfolk, Va., and after ten days furlough to visit their homes are

Navy Opens 23 Schools

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced that the Navy will complete in the immediate future opening 23 new schools for training enlisted men of the regular navy and the naval reserve for rating as petty officers in cooperation with the vocational educational program of the U. S. office of education.

Ten basic subjects will be given in the courses. Secretary Knox pointed out that each of them will give the men enrolled excellent training for making a livelihood after leaving the naval service. The basic courses are radio, visual signaling, Diesel engine operation and maintenance, aviation machinists, aviation metalsmiths, cooks and bakers, yeoman, carpenter mates, storekeepers and electrician mates.

Secretary Knox pointed out that enlistments are being taken in both the regular navy and in the naval reserve. The enlistment in the regular navy is for a six-year period, and the naval reserve enlistment is a four-year period.

Mrs. Pauline Cable who underwent an operation at the Angel Clinic recently has returned home much improved.

Rev. G. A. Cloer preached a very interesting sermon at W. L. Rowland's home on Sunday evening. The sermon was dedicated to Mrs. Rowland as she is not able to attend church.

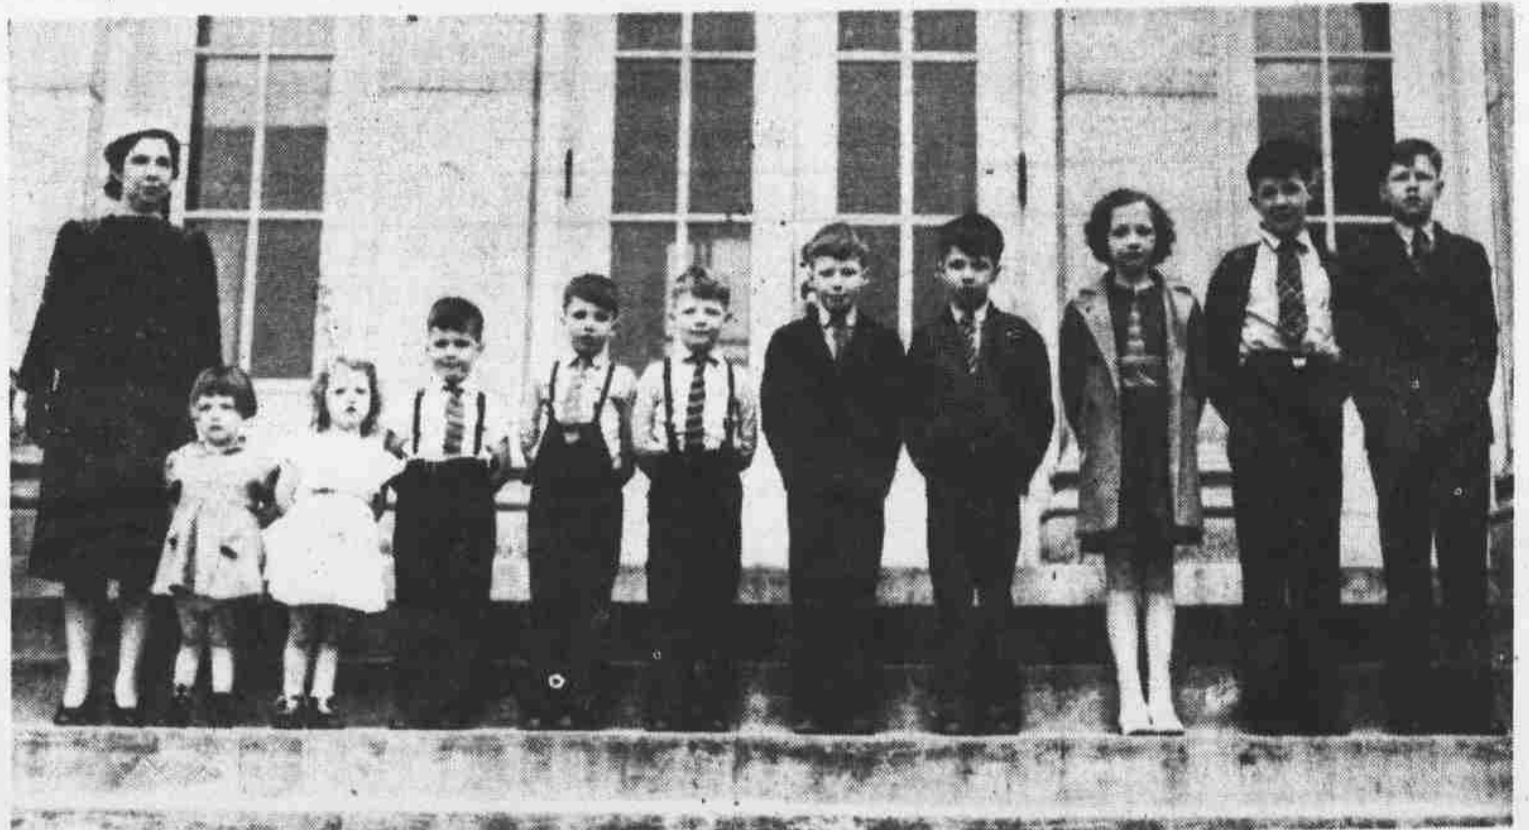

Clyde Willis, who is now in the service is stationed at Newport News, Va. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Willis.

In the past ten years we have progressed rapidly in the building of new homes. P. C. Fouts, Rozelle Fouts, Mrs. Halie Duvall, Dover Duvall, Robert Welch, Raleigh Sanders, Leslie Cambell, Bruen Pruitt, Woodrow Poindexter, Mrs. Marie Childers, Arthur Mos-teller, and Ted Moses all have new homes and are living in the community. P. C. Fouts died a few years after he built his home but it is now occupied by Mrs. C. H. Fouts.

Our roads have been improved but very little in the past ten years. We have a beautiful section to live in but we sure don't have our roads as wide and smooth as in other sections. We wonder why.

Architect's drawing of St. Joseph's Catholic Church being built at Bryson City. The church will occupy a site facing the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, on East Main Street, on U. S. Highway 19. The building will be of native stone.

Dalrymples Honored By State Department

Recent recognition by the North Carolina State college extension service of one of Macon county's small farmers, caps the success story of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Dalrymple of Cartoogechaye, six miles from Franklin. The accomplishments of the Dalrymple family should be of interest to every farmer.

The Dalrymples were those chosen, because of their accomplishments, to make the cotton mattress which will be used for exhibition in the patio of the United States Department of Agriculture building in Washington, D. C. The mattress will represent an important use of cotton in North Carolina.

One of thousands of small farmers to have the struggle that goes with small income and large families, Mr. Dalrymple and his family have proven that success is chiefly a matter of determination, and of good planning.

Today Mr. Dalrymple owns his own attractive home on an acre of land facing U. S. highway 64. He rents 14 acres of farm land from his father who owns the land adjoining his. An attractive lawn surrounds the home which is built of logs and a garden supplies all the vegetables for the family table needed throughout the year. Cows and chickens supply needed products for the family table.

The Dalrymples live well by making the most of all they have. Mrs. Dalrymple canned for home use over 600 quarts of vegetables a year ago.

The Dalrymples have five children, Mary Frances, 12; Doris, 10; Carolyn, 8; Tommy, 6, and Annette, 4.

Wheat Growers And Combiners Urged To See County AAA

Mr. S. W. Mendenhall, county agent, stated that he had received notice that all farmers, combiners, or processors of wheat should get in touch with their county AAA office in order to learn the details concerning the market quota program.

In explaining the market quota program Mr. Mendenhall gave the following facts:

The non-allotment farmer who harvests wheat in excess of his usage and the allotted farmer who seeded in excess of allotted acreage must "clear" themselves with AAA authorities—either by paying the penalty of 49 cents a bushel on excess wheat or by providing satisfactory removal of the overage from trade channels—before they may receive marketing cards.

Buyer and producer of wheat sold without marketing card will be jointly liable for payment of penalty. Action will be taken by the Federal court if the penalty established for the individual is not paid within 60 days after completion of harvest.
