GARDEN CLUB "MEN'S NIGHT" DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

The Garden Club's "Men's Night" at Panorama Courts on Monday evening was attended by many of the husbands of members and other fortunate guests who enjoyed a delightful program arranged by Mrs. H. E. Church, Mrs. J. C. Barrington, Mrs. Walter E. Furr, Mrs. Lester Henderson and Mrs. A. R. Higdon, joint hostesses for the occasion, served delicious refreshments; many remaining later to enjoy music and dancing.

The president, Mrs. T. W. Angel, Jr., welcomed the gentlemen in a graceful speech, with the assurance that their presence and interest was an inspiration to their work, and that they hoped to have other such meetings.

Clinton Johnson, recreational director of the Nantahala National Forest, entertained the gathering with a showing of rare colored moving pictures. Made in France with a microscopic lens, over a period of several years, the actual growth of the seed, downward of the roots and upward through every process of germination to the finished flower and leaves, was pictured and explained.

A pageant, entitled "4000 Gifts of the Forest", unfolded on the screen a delightful fantasy of the manifold benefits of trees, based on the motto of the forest, "I Give, I Serve, I Bless."

Mr. Johnson gave a brief talk on the subject of "Trees", in which he said "Every time you prune a tree, you weaken it. Instead of butchering trees, which ruins their beauty and causes them to die, take out a few trees where the growth becomes too thick." He advised that trees could be made more beautiful by giving them plant food, instead of reducing them to butchered stumps by cutting off limbs and tops. The speaker also gave expert advice to garden lovers about pruning shrubs, advising the replacing of old shrubs, that have ceased to be ornamental, with new shrubs.

Delightful music was furnished by Miss Dorothy Sloan, Mrs. W. M. Schwartz and Mrs. Henry Cabe.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Angel presented a farewell gift from the club to Mrs. James Averell, expressing appreciation of her valuable contribution to the club work. Mrs. Barrington thanked Mr. Averell, whose interest and service had entitled him to be counted a member, also.

Cartoogechaye Cook Book Contains Prize Recipes

The tried and tested recipes of the Cartoogechaye Home Demonstration club have been compiled by the foods leader, Mrs. Earl Harrison, and made into book form.

Mrs. Carl Slagle won first prize with "Mock Chicken Salad". Mrs. Fred Slagle won second place with "Graham Muffins", and Mrs. Joe Setser won third place with "Stuffed Peppers". These prize winners will be printed in next week's issue of this paper.
