A large potato, weighing three and a half pounds—as large as a child's head, and having a battle-scarred look—has been exhibited for the past week in the window of the Franklin Press office.

Sam Mendenhall stated that the unusual appearance was caused by the extreme drought early in the season, which retarded the growth of the potato, then the excessive rains caused it to grow so fast it just split open all around.

Aquone Cemetery

Removal Completed By Power Company

By CRAIG STEPP On September 1, the Nantahala Power and Light company started removing the Aquone cemetery under the supervision of Gene Raper of Lexington.

The undertakers who did the work were W. T. Forsyth of Andrews and Bill Moody of Bryson City. They employed about 25 men and finished the job last Thursday, September 25 after removing about 476 bodies, which had been buried from two to 100 years.

All were invited to attend the taking up of their relatives' remains (a great number watched the undertaking.) Some were grieved on account of the necessary removal, but they realized it had to be done, and were all satisfied in the way in which it was done.

These undertakers furnished new caskets and new boxes for each body removed, and also a tombstone for the ones who did not have any (which was about 75%). The greatest number were taken to Kyle, and the next greatest number were taken to the Ferguson cemetery about two miles west of Aquone.

The others were taken to Andrews, Franklin, Iotla, Burningtown, Red Marble, Warne, Tusquitee, and Marble.

Audubon Club Member Addresses Rotary

Members of the Franklin Rotary Club heard a short talk by W. G. Templeton, of Statesville, at the regular Wednesday luncheon on October 1.

Mr. Templeton, a member of the Statesville Audubon bird club pointed out several reasons to the group for the establishment of some type of bird protection in this locality, chief among them being that there were more unusual birds to be found in this section than almost any other part of the United States.

The establishment of winter feeding stations which afford an excellent opportunity for the study of birds close at hand was a way in which bird devotees could continue their hobby through the winter months, according to Mr. Templeton.
