Independence Day Plans To Feature Big Parade

day Visitors

Ben McGlamery, president of the chamber of commerce, who is chairman of the Fourth of July celebration, reports that plans are well under way for one of the biggest holidays Macon county has seen for a long time. Franklin will fall in line with the request of State Chairman Ben Douglas that a patriotic parade be featured as part of the program.

St. Clair Anderson will be the chief drummer and will be assisted by two or more drums. The Veterans of World War 1 of Coweeta CCC camp will be in the parade, which will include Legionnaires of Macon Post No. 108, the Legion Auxiliary and others.

Chairman McGlamery has announced that, by common consent, the stores will remain open to accommodate those who come to town from more distant parts of the county. Lee Guffey, secretary of the chamber of commerce, stated today that the merchants have under considerations closing the stores on Monday to give their employees a holiday. This, however, has not been definitely decided.

The full program for the day will be in next week's paper, including schedule of games and prizes. "The pig has already been donated for "the occasion," said Mr. McGlamery.

C. L. Pendergrass Changes Business

C. L. Pendergrass, who has been in the grocery business in Franklin for many years, announces in this issue that he will discontinue his grocery store to take up other work.

For some time Mr. Pendergrass has been interested its buying acid wood. Now that this is a vital material for national defense, he finds that this business has grown to "such proportions that he will devote his entire time to nave it. His many patrons whom he has served through his high class store will regret to lose his reliable and courteous service.

Liberal Response In Co. Will Raise Amount Of $800

The U. S .O. campaign which was launched the last week in May has received enthusiastic response in Franklin. Contributions have been liberal and two entertainments have swelled the fund. The bunco and card party given at the Kelly Tea Room netted the sum of $37.94.

J. E. S. Thorpe is chairman of this drive which has a goal for Macon county of $800. John Archer, treasurer, reported on Wednesday that the full quota is assured, although there are several points in the county still to be heard from.

The work of U.S. O. has an appal for all at this time. The money goes to support the recreational centers which are maintained for men in the armed forces by the united efforts of the three great religious groups in the United States, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches and organizations. Through them opportunities for recreation, reading and entertain-ment are furnished at all large camps, on ships and at foreign posts. Mr. Archer will be glad to receive additional contributions from any who have not been reached by the committee. He states that a full report will be made next week.

"Gone With The Wind" Returns to Macon Theatre Movie fans are looking forward total of $31,181.75. However, the to the return engagement of "Gone With The Wind" from Margaret quota for May was $10,700, and the June quota is increased to $16,800. May sales were no doubt

Mitchell's world-famous novel of the South during the days of the Confederacy and Reconstruction. Many who witnessed this brilliant screen performance at its first showing two years ago, will want to see it again. There are many,

New Subscribers

Welcomed As Solicitors Canvass Town

The Franklins Press and Highlands Maconian wishes to express appreciation of the hearty response to the paper's special solicitors during the past two weeks. Five young people have undertaken to canvass the town for new subscriptions and for renewals, with good results. They receive a commission for their work and also a bonus of Defense stamps after a certain goal is reached.

These solicitors are Virginia Bryant, Murion Carr, Lane Porter, Bettie Horsley and Clell Bryant. They will be glad to receive subscriptions, for local or out-of-town ubscribers, including in the service. Their work will continue through the coming week.

County Rationing Board Issues Important Notices

Bring In Your Rubber Now

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1942

J. S. Conley chairman of the Scrap Rubber Campaign, makes the following appeal to every home and every citizen in the county. The filling stations and Ray's Store have received a total of three tons of tires and tubes, but much more than this is expected of this county.

"Allow me to thank all of you who have given your time for this all-important cause, and especially the service station personnel.

"It seems there has been a very fine job done in Macon county insofar as tires and tubes are concerned, but I have been disappointed in the poor showing the homes have made in the matter of bringing in all the the small articles in all households that are made of rubber. However, it is not too late. The campaign will last until July 1, so please do not let our fighting boys down in this vital necessity. Take all you can find to the nearest filling station.

Institutional Sugar Users To Register June 29; Other Information

The Macon County Rationing Board will register institutional and industrial users of sugar on Monday, June 29, from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. in the Ashear Building, Room 109.

Institutional users comprise all business establishments that use sugar, namely hotels, cafes, resturants, boarding houses, schools, hospitals, drug stores and similar users.

Each registrant must present for consideration by the Board their duplicate copies of OPA Forms 310 and 314 for the months of May and June 1942 filed at the time of registration in April, 1942.

Ration Periods Designated

Sugar purchase certificates issued recently for home canning sugar are valid for a period of sixty (60) days from the date of issuance.

The OPA has designated ration periods and weight value for stamps No. 5 and 6:

Ration Period, No. 5 (June 28 to July 25), Stamp No. 5, Weight 2 lbs.

Ration Period No. 6 (July 26 to August 21), Stamp No. 6, Weight 2 lbs.

Violators Will Be Prosecuted Numerous complaints have been reported by citizens of Macon County to the Local War Price and Rationing Board of instances of violations of rationing orders and rationing regulations. Acting Price Administrator John E. Hamm warns, "that violators face direct prosecution and severe penalties under provisions of the second War Powers Act 1942." Mr. Hamm also 1, for "retail services," including disclosed, "that OPA is working dry cleaning, shoe repair, laundry, in close cooperation with the Dein close cooperation with the Detailoring, auto repair and garage partment of Justice, has adopted a plan of action for investigation and criminal prosecution of those persons who flout the rationing

Chamber Of Commerce Dinner Attended By 60

Eloquent Address Made by Mr. Tompkins; Speeches And Music Enjoyed

About 60 members and guests attended the Chamber of Commerce dinner last Tuesday evening at the Legion hall. The affair was a delightful occasion in every way, Dan Tompkins, of Sylva, a prominent Legionnaire and editor of the Jackson County Journal, delivered an eloquent and timely after-dinner speech on the value of the Chamber of Commerce to the town and county.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. Tompkins, and John E. Jones, secretary of the Sylva chamber of commerce; R. L. Arial, vice president of the Jackson county Bank, C. Russell, president of the Highlands chamber of commerce, W. W. Edwards, Frank Cook and Mr. Sutton of Highlands. Other guests were Mrs. Howard Barnard, whose husband, a former Franklin man, is now in the armed forces and William S. Johnson, at home on furlough from Luke Field, Arizona tions, as a central agency, through which all the people can work, especially at a time like this.

"The chamber of commerce should have for its purpose the development of all the resources of the community-physical, mental and spiritual, because it takes all that to make a well-rounded community. Our tremendous job now is to win the war." he said. Going back to the last war, this veteran reminded his hearers that there are some things worse than war, and that democracy is saved only by continuing effort, suffering and sacrifice. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty", he quoted, using the figure of Kipling's poem, "The Dykes" to illustrate his point that one of the causes of this war is that we have failed to guard the dykes that have been made by toil and suffering by those who builded this nation's bulwarks before us. "We have failed to look to the dykes which hold back the forces of paganism", he said. "It is a great fallacy for a man or a nation to do and think anything they want. Large Crowd

Say Goodbye To Men And Present Gifts

A large crowd of friends and citizens were present at the bus station last Friday morning, June 19, when 29 men left Franklim for induction at Fort Jackson. Two men who were to have gone in the group were inducted from other boards. One man, Kelley Edward Houston, reported with a broken arm, but he will be inducted when the next group leaves. Another man, Floyd Ellis Yonce, made an attempt to report, but due to an automobile accident he failed to reach Franklin until after the bus was gone. He also will be in the next group. Leonel Elmore Meadows, who was to have gone in this group, enlisted in the Navy before his induction.

Service kits were presented to the men by the Woman's Business circle of the Baptist church, who were present to see the men off. Mrs. Lola P. Barrington, Mrs. Lyman Higdon and Mrs. R. H. Carson were the committee in charge. Lawrence Liner, chairman of the citizen's committee presented each man with a testament before leaving. After the bus was loaded, Joe Ashear went on and told each man goodbye, giving all of them oranges to refresh them on the trip.

Inducted Men Now Granted Furlough

Instructions have been received by local boards that beginning July 1, 1942 every inducted man will be granted a fourteen-day furlough at the induction station, unless he prefers not to return home for this length of time. This will permit inducted men to return home at once for two weeks before entering the service.

OPA officials declined to disclose details of the pending order but said that, in general, prices would be based on the March, 1942, levels prescribed by the universal price If you do not have a registration order. The new regulation is expected this week.

Professional services, such as those of doctors, dentists and lawyers, are exempted from price control by the general price regulation. So also are personal services not connected with commodities, such as barber and beauty shops.

By certain "self-executing" provisions of the new order, officials said, formulas will be provided for putting maximum prices on services of a seasonal nature. Dry cleaners, for instance, in many cases could not use the level of last March, when their business was mainly in handling woolen apparel, in computing price maximums for washable summer clothing.

The "self-executing" provisions, whatever they may turn out to be, will take care of such situations. It To Play Murphy Twinwas indicated that the scheme involved some form of cost-plusnormal markup.
