MISSIONARY TELLS OF WORK IN CHINA

Rev. George P. Stevens of Monroe and Charlotte, who returned to this country from China on August 25, is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Bridgman with whom he was associated in China. Mr. Stevens spoke at the morning service in the Presbyterian church last Sunday, telling of the work the missionaries in China, and especially in Yencheng, have been privileged to do in the last two years—preaching the gospel on itinerating trips through the country, confronting the suffering Christians, looking after mission property, directing Chinese Christian workers and establishing the Chinese Presbytery.

Mr. Stevens also spoke Sunday evening at the Methodist church to the Christian Young People's League, to which all members of the community were invited. This time he told of some of the dangers to which he and the Chinese had been subjected—bombings, battles, robbers, etc., and of the 60-day trip to America from Shanghai on the "Conte-Verde" via Singapore to Lorence, and from there on the "Gripsholm" around the Cape of Good Hope via Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, to New York Harbor.

Mr. Stevens went to China under the Southern Presbyterian church in 1908, and since 1931 had been in the same station with the Bridgmans at Yencheng, Kiangsu, China, until the Bridgmans left there two years ago this month under fire from the incoming Chinese Communist Army.

Mr. Stevens and a fellow missionary, Miss Gussie Fraser, were caught in Taichow by the Pearl Harbor incident and interned there under the Japanese occupiers until June of this year, when they were exchanged for Japanese from America, arriving in this country on August 25.

Bringing In The Scrap

Parents are having to watch their family belongings closely as their children are really getting into the scrap. Even they realize that the war depends on every piece of scrap in this county and every other county. So, come on youngsters, and bring that scrap.

Fires Destroy Acidwood Vital To War Materials

Charred Wood Is Useless For Tanning; Loss To Macon

Fire Prevention Week has brought to mind fire danger in the forest. Everyone should bear in mind that as the leaves fall the woods will burn with increasing intensity. Large numbers of men are laboring in the woods engaged in hauling out acidwood. All of these acidwood workers are aware of the fact that where forest fires go over the wood job chestnut is charred to the point where it cannot be sold. Chestnut wood with charcoal on it does not make extractwood. Last spring one operator had a disastrous fire burn over his acidwood job. He had expended from $300 to $400 building roads. He was about to get under way with the job when this fire occurred. The wood was charred so badly that it was necessary for him to abandon the job. The owner of the timber lost $1500 because the chestnut had been burned to the point where it was not desirable. The woods operator lost $300 to $400 in labor expended on building roads.

At the present time Macon county is one of the major producers of acidwood. This type of woods work has supplied a vast amount of ready cash for Macon county farmers. Everyone appreciates this opportunity for helping in producing war materials, since chestnut acidwood produces the extract necessary for tanning shoes. Tanning extract has long been considered a vital war material by the War Production Board. Every patriotic citizen should therefore make every effort to keep fire out of the woods so that every bit of chestnut wood can be delivered to the extractory.

Bear And Boar Hunts Planned In Santeetlah Area

Nine bear and boar hunts will be held in Santeetlah cooperative wildlife management area of the Nantahala National forest it was announced yesterday by J. H. Longshore, chief refuge supervisor of the North Carolina state division of game and inland fisheries.

The Santeetlah hunts will be conducted between October 26 and November 14. In the Santeetlah hunt, each hunter will be allowed one bear and one boar. It was stressed that no other wildlife may be molested and hunters are expected to keep their dogs from chasing deer.

Drawing To Be Held

A drawing will be held on October 13 or 14 to determine the successful applicants for the hunts, Mr. Longshore said. The number of applications is expected to far outnumber the hunters who can be accommodated for the hunts and the drawing will be necessary to designate the hunters who will be permitted to take part.

Applications must be received at Mr. Longshore's office, 28 Law building, not later than 6 p. m. October 12, and it is expected the drawing will take place the following day at the office of the Asheville chamber of commerce in the Arcade building.

Mr. Longshore said each applicant must submit with his application a cashier's check or money order for $25, payable to him. Money will be returned to unsuccessful applicants after the drawing. Each successful applicant will be responsible for the arrangements of his hunt.

Application will be recognized only from persons who have bona fide bear and boar dogs or who are in a position to obtain them for the hunt.

Nine hunters and five alternates will be selected at the drawing for the Santeetlah hunts.

Further information may be obtained from the Nantahala Forest Service headquarters in Franklin.
