Brush Burners

Urged To Take Care By Dep't Of Agriculture

Farmers clearing land for new ground, or otherwise burning brush in connection with spring planting, were urged to use extreme care to prevent forest fires, Joseph C. Kircher, Regional Forester of U. S. Forest Service appealed to land owners to cooperate with State and Federal Protection Agencies in reducing the number of forest fires resulting from carelessness. According to Forest Service officials a large number of destructive forest fires have already occurred this spring as a result of careless brush burning. In addition to destroying timber, farm homes and equipment, the smoke from these fires have slowed aviation and artillery training programs. Valuable hours of manpower have been lost in controlling fires, where fire crews were drawn from military camps and war industries.

As a result of the seriousness of this situation F. B. I. Agents and military authorities are investigating a number of these fires, and federal charges will be instigated under the sabotage act. Officials pointed out that the destruction of war vital timber or endangering of military establishments will be classed as sabotage where the fire results from either carelessness or malicious intent. A reasonable amount of care will eliminate these fires, Kircher, emphasized.

Brush should be burned only on windless days—stacks of brush should be kept small. Before burning, a fire line should be plowed or raked around the area burned, plenty of help with tools to control any spot fires should be available. Last, but not least, the ashes should be kept wet down to prevent sparks from blowing the ashes after the workers leave the field.

It isn't easy—but war isn't easy and Victory isn't cheap. It takes money—and more money—to buy planes, ships, tanks, guns and a million other things our boys must have to deliver that final, paralyzing knockout punch. And it's a whale of a lot easier for us at home to lend our money than for our boys to fight through the hardships and dangers of deserts, swamps, jungles, ice-fields and sub-infested seas! There are 7 different types of U. S. Government securities—choose the ones best suited for you!

Just think! Every extra bond you buy will help provide the weapons to save the lives of many American boys! Isn't that alone worth every effort, every economy you can make? You bet it is! There are 7 types of U. S. Government securities to meet the needs of every purse. They offer the finest investment in the world—liberal interest, plus securities guaranteed by Uncle Sam himself. A volunteer worker for the 2nd War Loan Drive may visit you soon. Welcome this unselfish patriot—and buy all the bonds you can. But don't wait for that call. Go—today—to your bank, investment dealer, broker, post office or bond booth and invest to your uttermost limit. Even if it hurts, it's nothing compared to the agonizing impact of a bayonet thrust, a flesh-tearing torpedo fragment or a bone-crushing bullet. So dig deep, brother, and do it NOW!

THEY GIVE THEIR LIVES . . . YOU LEND YOUR MONEY!
