Says Red Cross Is Doing Grand Work In Africa

W. R. Potts has just received a letter from his nephew, Cpl. Charles Edward Potts, in which he paid a glowing tribute to the work of the American Red Cross in the North African area. We quote the following from his letter:

"The Red Cross is doing a great work in town and city hospitals and a wonderful job of entertaining where there is a converging of troops. I have only a rear area viewpoint where they serve sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and almost anything to give us a moment of ease. Their work is most beneficial in relieving the monotony and raising the morale of the men. Truly theirs is a great work."

JOHN HENRY OF ELLIJAY, PRISONER IN GERMANY, HAS A CHECK WAITING

"This world is a small place" is again proven by the following clipping from a newspaper in England. It has been sent to this paper by a young lady of Pittsburgh, Pa., who says in her letter, "I am sending a clipping which was sent to me by my boy friend whose home is in North Carolina, who is now stationed in England..." Here it is:

A torn and tattered check which has been chasing a buck private around the world for the last 12 months has just turned up again at its "port of embarkation"—the U. S. Army recruiting office in London. It won't be delivered now until the lights go up—the GI addressee is a prisoner of war.

Pvt. John C. Henry, of Ellijay, N. C., one of the first transferees from the Canadians to the U. S. Army when the recruiting office opened in London more than a year ago, was packed off to a replacement depot in Ireland the day after his papers were signed on Sept. 3, 1942.

Three months later a check from the Canadians for L1 23s.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to make a real post-war plan

Sure's a lot of talk going around nowadays about post-war planning... folks passing resolutions... statesmen holding conferences... governments making promises to each other.

But as Bert Childers says: "What good is all this drawing up of plans unless each one of us decides to make his corner of the world a better place to live in?"

From where I sit, Bert's put the problem in a nutshell. Governments can pass all the resolutions and make all the treaties they can think of—and it's still up to the people themselves to see to it that the world is ruled by tolerance and understanding.

Unless we make up our minds to respect the other fellow's rights and liberties—whether it's the right to enjoy a glass of beer occasionally or the right to vote according to our conscience—all our post-war planning won't be worth the paper that it's printed on.
