MISS BARBARA STOCKTON BRIDE OF WARREN PERRY

Miss Barbara Mae Stockton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Horner Stockton, was married to Warren Seipp Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ely J. Perry, of Kinston, at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation at Highlands.

The Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, rector of the church officiated at the ceremony. Native greenery, arrangements of white gladiolus, and lighted candles decorated the church.

Mrs. R. W. Prunty, organist, of Rock Hill, S. C., and the Rev. Jack Davidson, vocalist, of Pendleton, S. C., presented a program of wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a coronet gown of antique ivory satin, fashioned with an off-the-shoulder effect. The tight, long-lined bodice extended into a full skirt ending in a cathedral train. She wore an heirloom veil of princess lace over bridal illusion, which belonged to the cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Jack P. Carey, of Kinston, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias. She also carried a lace and linen handkerchief given her by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. C. T. Blaine.

Miss Merrily Brooks was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina dress with matching duster of lime green marquisette. Her headdress was a cap of the same material trimmed with daisies. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Ann Stockton and Miss Beverly Stockton, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Marion A. Parrott and Mrs. Jack Carey, of Kinston, cousins of the bridegroom. Their dresses and headresses were fashioned like those of the maid of honor and they carried bouquets of Shasta daisies. Miss Rita Carey, of Kinston, was flower girl. Her dress was yellow marquisette with matching bonnet, and she carried a basket of daisies.

Ely J. Perry, Jr., of Kinston, was his brother's best man. Groomsman were Dan E. Perry, brother of the bridegroom, and Jack P. Carey, cousin of the bridegroom, both of Kinston, Clifton F. West, cousin of the bridegroom, of Gladwyne, Pa., and James H. Stockton, Jr., brother of the bride.

Ushers were Walter Foyle Brinkley, of Raleigh, Don Harrison, of Goldsboro, Phil Hines and Leonard Oettinger, of Kinston, and Clell T. Bryant, of New York City, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue marquisette and lace over taffeta with matching hat. Her corsage was of yellow gladiolus.

The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of champagne chiffon and lace with matching hat and a green orchid.

A reception was held by the bride's parents at the Highlands Country Club. The bridal table, covered with a lace banquet cloth, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Assisting in serving were Miss Carolyn Long, Mrs. J. E. Perry, Jr., Mrs. Roy Pendergrass, and Miss Convere Jones, of Charlotte.

The couple left after the reception for a wedding trip to Canada, after which they will make their home in Kinston. For traveling Mrs. Perry wore a Charles Nudelman original suit with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Brenau college, Gainesville, Ga., where she was a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and the University of North Carolina law school. She was admitted to the N. C. Bar last Fall and has held the position as assistant to David McConnell, general counsel for Belk Stores in Charlotte.

Mr. Perry was graduated from the Woodberry Forest school, Woodberry Forest, Va., and the University of North Carolina, where he was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. He was also graduated from the U. N. C. law school where he was a member of Phi Delta fraternity. At present he is practicing law in Kinston.
