YANCEY MINERS SLATED TO GIVE REPORT FRIDAY

Reid Say Local Mining Applications Were Approved

A report on mining activities in Yancey county will feature a meeting of the National Miners' association Friday at 8 p. m. at the Agricultural building, it was announced this week. The Yancey report will be presented by Yates Bennett, Yancey county register of deeds and president of the Yancey unit of the N. M. A. Also expected to attend are members of the Yancey unit's executive committee. At the association's regular meeting Friday night, Andy Reid reported that all applications sent from this district (Macon County) to Washington, D. C. prior to June 1 have been approved with only field examinations remaining before final approval. Mining funds are expected to begin arriving in this county about the first of July, Mr. Reid said.

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

Ties that have picked up spots need freshening-up treatments between their regular trips to the dry cleaners. "Spot cleaning" or a good sponging all over with carbon tetrachloride or your favorite commercial spot remover are the answers. Ties that are worn a great deal get that rumpled, slept-in look though they're not really soiled and are in need of nothing so much as a "pressing" operation. Here's how you can quickly and easily give these ties a professional pressing at home to keep them looking dapper and at the same time save on those cleaning bills! Never iron neckties flat on the ironing board. If you want to avoid that flattened out look and keep the seams from wearing, make two cardboard inserts. Cut one to fit the large half of the tie, one to fit the small half. Slide inserts inside their respective halves. This prevents the marks of the seams from being pressed on to the tie front. These inserts also prevent the tie lining from rumpling.

Ties can be pressed under a damp cloth with a regular hand iron. A steam iron too does a good job. But we like to steam

Miss Morgan Receives Honorary Doctor's Degree

Miss Lucy Morgan, native of this county, Monday received the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Central Michigan College of Education, at Mount Pleasant, Mich., it has been learned here.

Miss Morgan, who is a sister of Mrs. H. E. Freas, and of the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, of Franklin, is the director of the Penland School of Handicrafts, at Penland, N. C.

The Michigan school, of which she is a graduate, conferred the degree on Miss Morgan "in recognition of her valuable service to mankind".

Gregory And Angel End Basic At Lackland Field

Two Franklin men, Lyman Gregory and T. W. Angel, III, recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Tex., both with the rank of private first class, it has been learned. They are now with a student training squadron, school of electronics, at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss.

ours on an ironer that has an adjustable shoe that can be used for steaming. You just tilt back the ironer shoe so it locks in "trough position" for easy steaming. Turn dial to "cotton" setting and lay a wet terry towel over the shoe. When steam rises, place the necktie (inserts in) on the towel and give it a quick but professional steaming. Brush tie lightly with a cloth as it steams.

What about washing ties? Some can be hand-washed, such as the cotton ties and bow ties so popular for summer wear. Always check on color-fastness before washing, particularly of plaids. Wash singly and briefly in lukewarm sudsy water; rinse twice. Knitted rayon boucle ties can be washed in the same manner. They must be re-blocked afterwards. Other ties, colorfast, can be given a sponge bath. Use cardboard tie inserts. Make a lukewarm suds of mild soap or detergent. Rub suds gently over tie. Remove suds with a clean cloth, dampened in lukewarm water. Go over tie several times. Put between folds of terry towel to remove excess moisture. Let tie dry flat with cardboard inserts left in so tie will not shrink. When dry, press.
