26 University Students Spend Week-End Here

Twenty-six students from the University of Georgia, members of the Wesley foundation, spent the week-end at the Rev. R. N. Blackard's cabin at Arrowood.

They were accompanied by the Rev. Brunson C. Wallace, director of the foundation at the university. Mr. Wallace delivered the Sunday morning sermon at the Franklin Methodist church and part of the university group sang in the choir. Ralph Seaman sang "The Lost Chord".

While here the group attended the Cherokee drama, "Unto These Hills", and a square dance Saturday evening.

Miss Margaret Setser, of Franklin, a student at the university, served as hostess.

PLAN NIGHT SERVICE

An all-night tent singing and preaching will be conducted by the Rev. Fred Ledford Saturday beginning at 7:45 p. m., six and a half miles south of Franklin on U. S. 23, it has been announced.
