 By MRS. F. E. MASHBURN
 Mrs. Forrest Jones, of Fletcher, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mashburn.
 E. J. Mashburn, Aaron Hedden, and Mrs. Alice Keener were appointed delegates to the Baptist association from the Walnut Creek Baptist church, which was organized in July.
 Mrs. Alice Keener recently visited her brother, Grady Henry, at the Orthopedic hospital in Asheville.
 Mrs. C. R. Russell is critically ill. Her daughters, Mrs. Fanny Webb and Mrs. Eva Hedden, are with her.
 Tuesday, August 7, the Walnut Creek home demonstration club had a delightful time on their tour. The tour was up Walnut Creek through the very scenic Walnut Creek gap, through the prosperous Hamburg vegetable growing area, by Glenville lake, stopping to visit the kitchen of Mrs. Gladys W. Smith, who makes such delicious foods from the wild fruits and berries that grow in the Western Carolina mountains. Also we visited the Carolina Mountain Craft shop in Cashiers. Then we motored through Highlands and down to Van Hook glade where a delicious lunch was spread on one of the tables. There were a number of campers from various places relaxing at the glade, so wisely prepared by our government. After lunch we wended our way towards Highlands, stopping at the Calico shop, formerly known as "The Dugout". The Highlands museum was where we saw many interesting things, such as a round piece of wood sawed clear through showing the rings of growth. It was several years old when Columbus discovered America. The tree was felled in 1927. The various minerals under the fluorescent lights looked like magic in fairyland. Many other stones were on display as well as Indian relics, antiques, and curios. In the basement were the live reptiles. We were glad that the singing timber rattlesnake was secure in his cage. Reluctantly we left the museum and continued our journey down by the country club where so many lovely flowers were blooming, and on down the forest clad mountain road to Dillard, Ga. Again we halted and visited the new produce market. We regretted no one was there to tell us of their plans for the future. Along the Georgia road corn was suffering for lack of rain. Having left our cares behind for the day, we will never forget this tour and the courteous people who made it so very worthwhile.

 Nine-year-old Verlon Mashburn recently killed a timber rattlesnake with 9 rattlers.
