MRS. H. G. STORY

MISS ANGELIA ANDERSON WEDS JAMES E. HARDIN

Miss Angela Anderson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Anderson, of Highlands, was married to James Edwin Hardin, son of Mrs. Hattie Hardin, of Clyde, and of the late J. E. Hardin, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Highlands Presbyterian church.

The Rev. R. B. Dupree officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Arthur Ranson, pastor.

Mrs. Louis Edwards, in charge of decorations, used shasta daisies, white gladioli, and evergreens. Seventy-eight candles lit the church. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Louis Edwards sang "At Dawning" and "Do You Remember?", and Miss Mary Ross Anderson, of Etowah, Tenn., sang "I Love You Truly." Mrs. O. F. Summer, organist, played "Ave Maria," "Indian Love Call," "Poeme," "Calm as the Night," and "Traumerel."

Miss Anderson was given in marriage by her father. She wore a French illusion, fingertip veil, caught at the crown by seed pearls. Her gown was of white slipper satin, with tight chantilly lace sleeves, and petal fly-away collar. Satin buttons in tiny loops made a col-

NIXES ARE HONORED ON EVE OF DEPARTURE

The Rev. Paul C. Nix, pastor of Highlands Baptist church for the past three and a half years, and Mrs. Nix were honored with a farewell party Wednesday evening at the pastorium, given by members of the church.

A large number of friends, including many members of other Highlands churches, called between the hours of 8 and 10 to express their appreciation for the services Mr. and Mrs. Nix have rendered here, and to extend best wishes to them in their new field of labor at the Sea Gate Baptist church, near Wilmington.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Nix were Mrs. M. A. Pierson, Mrs. Charles Dorris, Mrs. J. D. Burnette, and J. A. Hodges, Sunday school superintendent.

Gladioli, dahlias, and sprays of smaller flowers in pink and white decorated the pastorium and centered the refreshment table, which was covered with a lace cloth. Serving at the two punch bowls were Mrs. Frank E. Shockley, Mrs. Davis Rhodes, Miss Doris Potts and Miss Joyce Burnette. Mrs. Glenn Shuler, church organist, gave several piano selections during the evening.

LIBRARY BENEFIT TEA PLANNED ON WEDNESDAY

A tea for the benefit of the Hudson Free library will be held next Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in the library building, Miss Rebecca C. Nall, president of the Library association, has announced. Chairmen for the tea will be Mrs. Arthur L. Bliss and Mrs. Harold N. Cooledge.

In addition to furnishing reading material for visitors, the library is open the year-round, supplying books and magazines for the home people during the long winter months.

Farmers received about 12.9 billion dollars from their marketing during the first half of 1951. The total was up about 20 per cent from 1950. Average prices farmers had to pay for goods used in production were up 13 per cent.

umn from the neck to the pointed waist. Her skirt was full, with a full length train. Her only ornament was a family heirloom belonging to her mother, a pearl-studded topaz brooch, worn at the neck. The bride's bouquet was a purple-throated white orchid on a white satin ribbon with tube roses on streamers.

The bridal party consisted of the matron of honor, Mrs. E. R. Sellers, of Hendersonville, sister of the bride, and the maid of honor, Miss Mary Anderson, sister of the bride. The maid and matron of honor wore yellow and sea green dresses, respectively, with a top dress of white frosted organdie, and a jacket of the same material with tiny pearl buttons lining the jacket from neck to waist. The full three-quarter length sleeves were cuffed with wide bands.

Bridesmaids were Misses Jane Anderson, sister of the bride, Peggy Potts, and Margaret Anne Mitchell, and Mrs. Nancy Coward, all of Highlands, Miss Sara Covin, of Belton, S. C., and the Misses Martha Jean Hardin, niece of the groom, and Elaine Ellis, of Clyde. The bridesmaids wore yellow taffeta dresses with the white frosted organdie covering; they were sleeveless, with a dove-type neck line. The flower girl, Carol Ann Beale, wore a green dress like the matron of honor.

The maid and matron of honor carried large nosegays of rose buds and shasta daisies, with lace and satin streamers. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of shasta daisies, and the flower girl carried a Bo-Peep basket, sprinkling petals down the aisle.

The best man was Joe Hardin, brother of the groom, of Clyde. Ushers were Ed Sellers, of Hendersonville, Glenn Brown, Howell Brown, Charlie Morgan, and Bill Hardin, brother of the groom, of Clyde.

The mother of the bride wore a lilac crepe and lace dress with nylon gloves to match. Her corsage was white gardenias. The mother of the groom wore a rose lace dress with black accessories and white gardenias.

As the closing prayer, the Rev. Jack Davidson, of Pendleton, S. C., sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For going away, the bride wore a black faille suit with a turned-up black velvet collar, cuffs and covered buttons. Her hat and bag were black velvet, and the veil was caught at the crown by tiny pearls. Her shoes were black suede and her corsage was the orchid taken from atop her Bible.

After a wedding trip to Atlantic City and Washington, D. C., the couple will be at home in Clyde, where Mr. Hardin has a position with the Champion Fibre company.

HIGHLANDS 9 TO PLAY S. C. TEAM SUNDAY

Benefit Planned; Locals Lose To Anderson, 10 To 5

Highlands' baseball nine will meet the Oconee mill team, of Westminster, S. C., in a benefit game on the Highlands field Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The proceeds of the game will go to the Highlands Community hospital.

Highlands took a licking from another South Carolina team—the Orr mill nine, of Anderson—last Sunday afternoon, losing to the tune of 10 to 5.

The Orr mill men sewed up the game in the eighth inning, when Owens connected with a home run, with the bases loaded.

The final statistics: Anderson, 11 hits, 10 runs, 7 errors; Highlands, 9 hits, 5 runs, seven errors.

Batteries: Anderson, Allen and Evatt; Highlands, Thompson and Newton.

Biological Station Plans Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the Highlands Biological station will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Museum of Natural History building.

The meeting will feature reports by the officers, the election, by written ballot of the trustees; the election of a clerk of the corporation; and the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Mrs. Dove Highlands Resident, 68 Years, Dies

The death of Mrs. Clara B. Dove on August 6 removed from Highlands one of its oldest residents.

From her birthplace in Minnesota, Mrs. Dove came to Highlands in 1883 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Babcock, and a brother, the family settling on a farm three miles from Highlands, where she continued to live until her last illness.

Mrs. Dove was a practical nurse, receiving her training under the late Dr. Mary E. Lapham, prominent Highlands physician. Mrs. Dove was 81 years old and had lived a busy life until recently.

She died at Angel hospital, Franklin, where she had been a patient for several months.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. C. N. Cook, of Franklin, and burial was in the Miller cemetery, six miles from Highlands.

Speaking of Mrs. Dove, her closest neighbor remarked that "she was a good neighbor and friend."

Mr. Moore Conducting Services Daily At The Methodist Church

The Rev. John W. Moore, of Lake Junaluska, is conducting a revival series at the Highlands Methodist church this week, and is holding services each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and nightly at 7:30 o'clock. The series will close Sunday evening.

Mr. Moore was guest preacher for a week at the Highlands church last summer and according to the Rev. Robert E. Early, pastor, Mr. Moore's return here this summer was requested by a large number who attended his services last year.

Will Hold Benefit Supper For Church Building Fund Tonight

A benefit supper, proceeds of which will go to the Highlands Methodist church building fund, is planned for this evening (Thursday) at 6:30 o'clock at the old school lunch room, the Rev. Robert E. Early announced this week.

The supper is being presented under the auspices of the Methodist Woman's society.

Article Says Former Franklin Resident Is Dean Of Helena Weavers

Mrs. L. S. Ropes is recognized as the dean of Helena, Mont., weavers, according to a recent article in a Helena newspaper.

Mrs. Ropes will be remembered in Franklin as Miss Nora Deal, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Deal. She is a sister of Mrs. T. J. Johnston, of Franklin.

The newspaper article appeared at the time Mrs. Ropes, whose work in weaving is considered outstanding, and three other Helena women had an exhibit of hand weaving in the windows of the Helena chamber of commerce. Of Mrs. Ropes' work, the article reported:

"Mrs. Ropes, who is considered the dean of Helena weavers, has exhibited a rug, a shawl, place mats, and an exact copy of an original Guatemalan runner. She has made bedspreads, linen towels, and many other beautiful articles, and has been written up in a national weaving magazine. She has two looms."

O. E. S. TO MEET
Highlands chapter No. 224, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic building. It has been announced by the worthy matron, Mrs. Carolyn P. Nall. A Rob Morris program will feature the meeting.

Plant scientists are trying to breed into the lima bean the quality of resistance to downy mildew disease, a fungus infection that cuts yields. For this work they have assembled 113 foreign and domestic strains and varieties of lima beans.
