Marks 75th Birthday

Inside The Ellijay Community

Mrs. J. I. Young celebrated her 75th birthday Monday. All of her nine children are living, and all are making their homes in Macon County with the exception of Mrs. Fred Harrell, of Goldsboro.

Despite her age, Mrs. Young is still in very good health and she boasts that she has never taken a dose of medicine. Mr. Young died September 15, 1951, at the age of 81.

Sgt. Walter L. Henry, who has been stationed in Florida, spent a short leave here last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry, prior to leaving for overseas duty in England.

James F. Young, seaman apprentice, and Don L. Huff, seaman apprentice, both with the navy at Norfolk, Va., spent the week-end with Seaman Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dills, of Brevard, visited Mr. Dills' sister, Mrs. Tom Henry, this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henry and children, Jean and Larry, of Hazel Park, Mich., spent the Easter holidays with Mr. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mincey and daughter, Paulette, recently moved to Marietta, Ga., where Mr. Mincey is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Duke Guffey and family moved to Washington state last week.

Leslie Young, who suffered a crushed hand in a minor truck accident recently, is reported to be improving.

Miss Jackie Evitt, who is working in Greenville, S. C., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Evitt.

"Aunt Carrie" Henry, Ellijay's oldest resident, has been ill. She is now living with her son, Canton Henry, and is reported to be gradually improving.

Sgt. Jones Reported On Way Back To States

Mr. and Mrs. Weimar Jones have received word that their son, Sgt. William G. (Bill) Jones, who has been serving in Korea for the past 16 months, was scheduled to leave last week for Japan, and thence return to the States.

Business

nothing is bad. We may wake up here some morning and find that the tourists are going where the people really go out of their way to provide recreation, entertainment and other tourist attractions.

It is very gratifying to see the large number who have filed for Board of Education. The school system has grown to one of the counties' biggest business and it is still growing. Business experience will prove very valuable to board members.

W. H. Mashburn now has a jewelry and watch repair shop in east Franklin located at the junction of the U. S. 23 and U. S. 64.

Jay Houston and Reid Womack have purchased the Willys agency from the Macon Motor Company.

We miss the late Mayor Dillard's clean-up campaign this spring.

There are more than 50 farm crops that require pollination—and about 80 per cent of this job is done by honeybees.

RELIEF FOR ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Quick relief usually comes from the first dose of this new formula which acts to relieve congestion. People who formerly suffered with frightening choking, coughing, wheezing asthma attacks speak of welcome relief after using ASMACOL. ASMACOL costs $2.50, but considering the relief you will experience, the $2.50 it costs amounts to only a few pennies per dose. ASMACOL (caution, use only as directed) is sold with a money back guarantee if not delighted with results. Sold only by

This Week With Macon County Agents

By Mrs. Florence S. Sherrill
Miss Verna Stanton, of Raleigh, assistant state home demonstration agent, explains why we have National Home Demonstration week. The column is given by Miss Stanton this week in the hope that rural women will listen to farm programs on their radio and read the farm magazines telling the story of home demonstration work all over the world.

"Sunday, April 27, marks the opening of the Seventh National Home Demonstration week, which will be observed not only by North Carolina club women, but also by club members all over the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

The theme for this particular week is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." It was adopted for the first special observance in 1946 and since it met with national approval, it has come to be accepted as the theme for all home demonstration work.

It may be that some of you do not know why we have home demonstration week. If that's true then it is time we let you know that the whole purpose of setting aside the week April 27-May 3 is to tell more people about home demonstration work. Home demonstration work is that part of the extension service that deals with the home. And extension work is a cooperative project of the United States Department of Agriculture, state colleges of agriculture, county and local governments, and local organizations.

Let's look at the picture in North Carolina. There are 100 counties in the state and each one employs one or more home demonstration agents. In fact, there are 173 white home demonstration agents and assistants working in the 100 counties and 54 negro home demonstration agents and assistants working in 50 counties.

Home demonstration work is a voluntary adult education program. It is carried into the homes and communities by home demonstration agents assisted by women who serve as voluntary local leaders. It concerns everyone because a good home is for everybody who lives in it. It is fundamental. It means good nourishing food on the table, health, safety, a better dressed family, more attractive homes for comfort and happiness, good reading, an appreciation of good music, wholesome recreation, and family life, which is stressing family responsibilities for building character.

Then there is the community side of home demonstration work. The club women's interests have advanced far beyond the four walls of the home. They have taken the logical step from better homes to better communities. They sponsor in cooperation with other organizations, health clinics, hot lunches in schools, better recreation, improved church and school grounds, and community beautification programs, such as the model mile.

Home demonstration club women are learning how to be better citizens. They are attending citizenship training schools, discussing the problems of good government and studying their responsibilities as informed and active citizens. They want to be better world citizens and their interest in building understanding and friendship has gone into many countries through the Letter Friend and exchange programs. Their contacts at national and international meetings with rural women from many countries has been a means of building a stronger program.

As we pause this week to take stock of where we are, how far we have come, and to set some guide posts for the future, we want to keep "Today's Home" conscious of its responsibilities in developing healthy, happy citizens who can meet the future with courage and confidence.
