BOB POOLE, popular radio star of WBIG says, "My wife has always used light Karo for cooking ... and on the table—it's dark Karo for me, the best-tasting eating syrup of 'em all"

Yes, indeed...biscuits go like hot cakes when you pour on plenty of delicious dark Karo... there's nothing like it for good eating. Satisfyin' flavor. So rich it stands right up on top of biscuits (keeps 'em light and fluffy). Keep Karo on your table morning, noon and night...it tops anything!

Ask your grocer for DARK Karo, in pint and quart bottles

We've Had No Violets Yet!

It may be raining rain elsewhere, but in these parts its raining Radiosondes.

Confused? Then, by way of clarifying this unusual precipitation, Radiosondes are those queer-looking white high altitude weather instruments the U. S. Air Force sends up to gather data.

Last week, C. S. Tilley found one on his property on Tilley Road.

Next day another one landed in a tree top on the Bryson farm near the Cowee Baptist Church. Some boys shinned up the tree and retrieved it.

Both boxes were shipped off to Knoxville, Tenn.

Week before last, Boyd Long found one near his home on the Georgia highway.

Rural Group Will Decide On Grounds

A meeting to decide when work will begin on the picnic ground has been called for tomorrow (Friday) night by the Upper Cartoogechaye Rural Community Development Organization, according to Mrs. Gazette Nicholson, community reporter.

The session will be held at the Maiden's Chapel Church.

It is also planned to remove the overall patches to see how much the fund-raising project has made for the use of the community.

SAFETY FOR FARM CHILDREN

Children plus farm machinery yield a bumper crop of accidents each year. The children are not at fault, nor is the machinery, therefore it becomes the responsibility of parents to prevent these accidents. A concentrated effort on your farm and in your community to prevent children from being killed or injured from riding, driving or playing on machinery could do much to prevent such needless accidents occurring.

Falls rank high among fatal farm accidents. Cluttered stairways, unsafe ladders, lack of handrails (whether in the hayloft or house), loose wires, etc. contribute to the toll. Eliminate hazards. Keep stairs, halls, and alleyways free and clear of obstructions. But don't overdo it by using too much wax in the wrong places. Check your light bulbs and clean the lamp shades. Good light makes stairs and hallways safe.

Poison often claims children as victims. Any old unlabeled bottles in the medicine cabinet? Dispose of them where the youngsters can't get their hands on them. Put insecticides and other chemicals out of reach, preferably under lock and key.

Cutting and stabbing injuries occur most often to children at play. Keep knives and sharp utensils stored in orderly fashion and out of reach of little fingers. The same goes for shop tools. And don't leave pitchforks, spades or rakes where they can cause an injury.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. Does lightly sprinkling a lawn with a hose really help?

A. Some USDA irrigation specialists say it does for newly-seeded lawns. Once lawn grasses become established, however, light sprinkling from a hand-held hose has little value. Application of at least an inch of water is then required to reach the grass roots where it can do the most good.

Q. Now that flies have developed a resistance to DDT, what do we do now?

A. Fly baits, combining an old principle with the use of new chemical insecticides are proving to be the best means of meeting this problem. Malathion, diazinon, and Bayer 13/59 are effective chemicals but all are poisonous and should be handled with due precautions.

Q. How serious is this "Brucellosis" that I've been hearing about?

A. Just the most serious, widespread, and expensive disease of livestock in the country. USDA estimates that it is causing annual losses to the cattle industry of $58 million a year through reduced milk output, fewer live calves, and replacement of infected cows.
