GOOD BUTTERMILK RECIPES — Buttermilk muffins can be made in half an hour and they are a quick bread all members of the family will like. Use 1 cup enriched flour, 3/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon each of salt and baking powder, 1 cup enriched corn meal, 1/4 cup melted shortening or bacon drippings, 2 tablespoons sugar, two eggs well beaten and 1 1/2 cups sour buttermilk. Sift enriched flour with baking soda, salt and baking powder. Mix with enriched corn meal. Combine bacon fat, sugar, and eggs. Add sour or buttermilk and combine with dry ingredients. Beat only until smooth. Fill well greased muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (435 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 12 to 15 servings.

Buttermilk sherbet as a cool, refreshing dessert for the family on a hot summer day. Ingredients: 2 cups buttermilk, 2/3 cup sugar, 1 cup crushed pineapple (drained), 1 teaspoonful vanilla and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Mix buttermilk with all other ingredients. Freeze quickly to a mush. Turn into a bowl and beat with egg beater. Return to tray and complete freezing.

COOKING WITH MILK — When you are cooking with milk, be careful not to let it boil. Milk scorches easily so you may want to use a double broiler. People who do not like the taste of plain milk usually like it combined with other foods in cooked dishes. Milk is so high in food value that it is considered a food rather than just a beverage.

• State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. Is there any guide to out-of-state consumer preference in poultry?

A. Yes, according to Clayton P. Libeau, extension poultry and egg marketing specialist, and it is important that poultry growers recognize out-of-state preference, since North Carolina is exporting increasing quantities of poultry meat.

A study of consumer preference in the northeast reveals that (1) plumpness and skin color mainly influence housewives in selecting poultry, (2) more broilers and fryers are sold than any other type of poultry meat, (3) ready-to-eat birds outsell New York dressed three-to-one in stores where there is a choice between the two, (4) an increasing number of fryers are sold as parts, (5) poultry meat is still considered a Sunday and holiday dish by most housewives, but this habit is being gradually broken by convenient, cut-up packaged parts, and (6) housewives object to evidence of bruising and poor bleeding. Libeau says sales can be increased where a variety is offered, such as whole fryers and parts, fresh and frozen, with attractive colored labels on packages in refrigerated aisle displays. "Planning for consumer approval must begin in the farm breeding flocks and continue through producer, processor and retailer," Libeau says.

Projects Clear Patton's Debt For Building

Patton community now owns its community building. A box supper and drawing Saturday night cleared away the remaining indebtedness. A total of $750 was realized from the two projects, it is reported.

Pfc. Holland Ends Course In Virginia

Pfc. Virgil T. Holland, son of Alfred M. Holland, of Franklin, Route 5, recently was graduated from the transportation school's helicopter repair course at Fort Eustis, Va.

The Army Home Town News Center, which made the announcement this week, said the local soldier was trained to repair, modify, and overhaul army rotary wing aircraft in the 23-week course.

Formerly employed at Burrell Motor Company, Inc., Pfc. Holland entered service in August, 1954, and completed his basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance.

The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stop-and-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business—however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

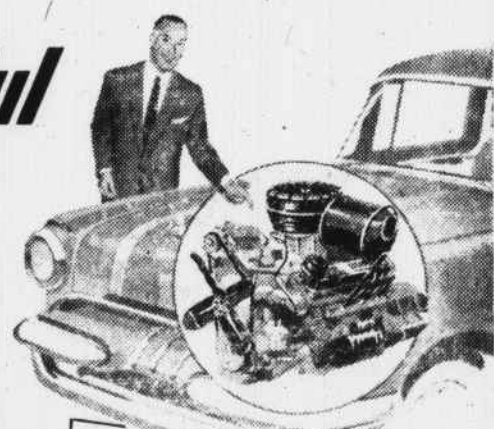

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

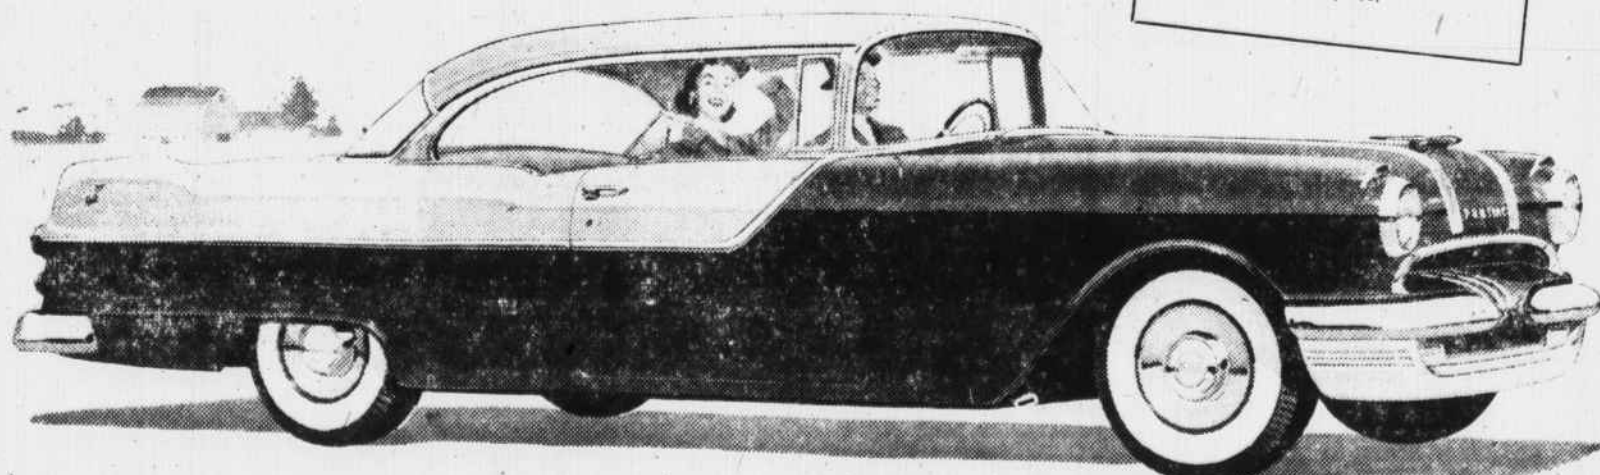

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soon.

Pontiac

Most Modern Engine in Any Car THE STRATO-STREAK V-8

The Strato-Streak V-8 is one of the great landmarks of automotive progress—the newest and most advanced engine you can buy. Standard with all the lines of Pontiac, it develops 187 H.P. and reaches a blazing 200 H.P. with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at extra cost. Either way you get the most power per dollar delivered by any car at any price.
