

An Invitation . . .

Perhaps there is no better way for us to phrase this invitation than to revert to the picturesque Elizabeth English once common here in the mountains.

In that sturdy mountain speech of the long ago, then: —

This Here's YORE INVITE to our
FRANKLIN CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION
June 16, 17, 18

We'd shore be proud to have ye.

— Hit'll start soon in the mornin' on Thursday (the 16th), so aim to git here the day before. And they hain't no tellin' when it'll wind up Saturday night, so don't be in no hurry to git back home.

Fact is, when you git here, we hope you'll set a spell. Stay all summer, why don't you?

So . . .

You'uns come, and bring the young'uns — and if ye can't come, write —
