his course of study once — and no more.
The VA said that during the three years the Korean GI Bill has been in effect, more than 1,000,000 veterans so far have entered training. About half enrolled in colleges and universities; the remainder trained in other types of schools, on-the-job and on-the-farm.

the material. Grain is the way in which a fabric has been woven — length-wise (warp) and crosswise (fill) threads or yarns are woven together at right angles to make the material. Pieces must be cut on the correct grain, and the grain must be kept in its correct position throughout construction. If the garment is to be grain perfect, explains Miss Melver. The finished garment will not hang well, hang correctly, or look smart unless cut and sewn on the proper grain, explains Miss Melver. Unfortunately, there is no secret formula you can employ to compensate for or conceal a badly cut garment. Prevention is the only cure, so make your clothes grain perfect, she urges.

Grain Of Cloth Important Factor In Dress Making

Here are some tips on sewing, offered by Julia Melver, State College extension clothing specialist.
There is a wide variety of tricks that can give your clothes that special mark of distinction, says Miss Melver. But actually there's no special magic about making a very finished looking dress. All you need are a few helpful pointers.
One of the most important steps to learn in dressmaking, says Miss Melver, is to learn how to sew with the grain of

Planning is One Way To Lighten Home-Making

Good home managers have a plan, says Miss Mamie Whisnant, State College extension specialist in home management. They know more than the best way to do each of the jobs they do every day. They know how to fit them all together well.
Before they start to work each day, they plan what jobs must be done, who will do them, when and where, and how to do them the quickest, easiest way. In their minds, they lay their day's or week's work out before them and map out a plan of action to follow—all of this before they actually begin work. That's good time management, declares Miss Whisnant.
Every homemaker plans, but few take time to write out any of their plans. But don't waste time and energy trying to remember or being sorry you forgot. Keep a pad and pencil in several places in the house for convenience in jotting down plans, ideas, things to do, things to buy. Time for this will be time well spent.
Your success in housekeeping will depend to a large extent upon the interest and cooperation of family members who share the work in doing household tasks. The wise home manager will plan household activities with her family so that each member will be responsible for doing definite things. Household tasks can be made attractive and interesting to children, says Miss Whisnant. Children very quickly catch the spirit which older family members show in their attitudes and work habits. If jobs are performed happily, children are more apt to learn and enjoy sharing in the responsibilities and work of keeping the home running smoothly.

Few Korean War GI Trainees Change Courses

Korea veteran-trainees under the GI Bill are not "course hoppers," according to a Veterans Administration study just made public.
The study discloses that 95 per cent of all Korean GI Bill trainees have stayed with the courses they chose originally.
So far, only five per cent have changed their courses — and many of these switched to studies more in keeping with their aptitudes and abilities.
Under the Korean GI Bill, a veteran has the right to change
