Swafford's Sayin's

I want to make an important announcement to all my customers, and you tell your friends and neighbors. Beginning Friday — my corn mill will be open. Bring your corn for meal or to be crushed for feed. Olen (Red) Bradley will be grinding. If any of the stores want grinding done — Red can do it.

Another thing — From now on my store will be semi-self-service. I just can't possibly wait on so many customers at once. When you come in, just look around and pick out what you want. And I will be with you as soon as possible. I want to thank all of you for being so patient in waiting when I am busy.

I wish all of you could be here sometimes when the crowds gather. Of course I have plenty of parking room, no meters, but my store is as crowded sometimes as sardines in a can. And believe me, several of them took advantage of the specials I had for the week-end. I even sold out of several items.

I'm glad to know some of you have missed my "Sayin's". (Thanks to J.P.B.) but you know what — I couldn't do a thing about it. You see, my wife believes in signs. She plants things in the moon, head, arms, legs and goodness knows where else, and I think she believes in ground-hog days. I just had to wait until I was sure it was time to come out. I don't know as much about these signs as the city boy did about cows. He found a bunch of milk bottles and thought he had found a cow's nest.

By the way — I have a request to make of my customers. Will you give me a list of ten items (more or less) you would like for me to add to my stock?
