

VEGETABLES — To prepare fresh green vegetables for cooking, discard any bruised, wilted, or yellowed outer leaves, and cut off tough or dried stem ends. If you are preparing kale, strip leaves off the woody midribs. Wash vegetables thoroughly, using plenty of water for leafy greens. Lift vegetables out of the water instead of pouring the water off the vegetable. That way, grit, which settles to the bottom of the pan, isn't poured back over the vegetables. Soak brussels sprouts and broccoli 30 minutes to an hour in cold water to remove any insects in the tight leaves of flower buds.

QUICK COOKING — Cook green vegetables quickly for best quality. Use a cover on the pan to speed cooking, and cook until vegetable is just tender and still slightly crisp. Long cooking makes the vegetable limp, and changes color and flavor.

WINDOW WASHING — Wash windows with warm soapy water containing a few drops of kerosene and a little bluing for extra sparkle. A bottle-washing brush dipped in suds picks up dust from corners of window pane molding. Rinse with warm water and polish dry with a clean, lintless cloth.

Dust venetian blinds weekly with a lamb's wool duster or vacuum attachment. Then tilt the slats down and wipe with a cloth or sponge wrung almost dry from warm soapsuds; repeat with slats turned up. When necessary, immerse blinds in a deep washtub full of warm soapsuds. Scrub tapes on both sides with a well-lathered brush, and lift the opened blind up and down through suds and rinses. Drain, wipe, and let blinds hang free while drying to prevent tapes from shrinking.

Q. What's the cheapest way to harvest corn for silage?
A. If you have enough corn, a forage harvester. With labor at $1 an hour, a power take-off harvester is economical if you have as much as 100 tons of corn. If labor costs less, say 60 cents, you would have to have 125 tons of corn before it would pay to buy a forage harvester.

Q. How long does it take to cool eggs, to 60 degrees?
A. If you put them in a wire basket, and place in a room with a temperature of 60 degrees, it will take six to seven hours. Eggs should be at this temperature before packing into cases or cartons.
