

Youth Gets 5-10 Years In Shooting

A five to 10 year sentence was handed a 17-year-old prisoner in Superior Court here recently for his role in the shooting of a prison guard in June.

In his judgment, Judge Zeb V. Nettles ordered the sentence into effect when the prisoner, Roy L. Scarborough, finishes serving his present one at the Macon camp for false pretense and larceny. Scarborough, of Asheville, had about three months left to serve at the time of the incident.

Guard William R. Anderson was seriously wounded by his own .38 calibre pistol in a scuffle on June 13 with Scarborough while a road gang worked on Cat Creek Road. At the time, the guard said the youth was "agitated" into the shooting by other prisoners. Although he has been discharged from the hospital, Mr. Anderson still is recovering and will not report back to work until September 1.

Scarborough stood trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.
