ment will pay half the cost of two-way radio equipment for town and county vehicles in return for federal use of the equipment in case of emergency, it was explained.

The commissioners went on record as favoring the installation of equipment in one car. If this proves beneficial, the commissioners said they then would consider equipping a second car.

The commissioners transacted only routine business at their monthly meeting. All three commissioners, Chairman W. E. (Gene) Baldwin, Wiley Brown, and J. W. Roane, were present.

an air conditioning system, and a large rest room.

Hiring to pull up the slack in the expansion program is "going along good," according to Mr. Bundy.

He previously has announced that between 100 and 150 people would be needed to round out the proposed expansion program.

Holt Construction Company was the contractor on the addition. The firm has its offices in Graham.

interest rates higher, he's not sure about 1957, but expects a year at least as good as the one just ended.

Macon's county farm agent, T. H. Fagg, believes farm gross will be equal in 1957 to 1956. "The man who makes money on a farm in 1957 will have to be a good manager. He's got to cut corners where he can," according to Mr. Fagg.

Price increases of $8 a ton in steel will show up in farm equipment, the county agent notes. "Another increase is predicted," he adds. Feed prices are up, also.

He looks for poultry prices, now depressed because of over-production, to pick up about July. Sheep and tobacco should be about the same; hogs and beef should increase a bit; and fruits and vegetables depend on the weather here, as well as what effect the weather has on Macon's competitors in Georgia and Florida, Mr. Fagg says.

"The dairy situation looks good," he concludes.

Verlon Swafford, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is the most optimistic of the four. The industrial payroll of the new rug company in Rabun County, Ga., already is having a good effect here, Mr. Swafford says. He expects the company, once full employment is reached, to draw nearly 50 per cent of its employees from this county.

"I look for the tourist business to increase still further this year, too," he adds.

Both Mr. Swafford and Mr. Cabe cite the Franklin Hosiery Company payroll as a community business booster, with more employees to be added this year.

Glenville Tuesday night. Since both girls' teams are undefeated, Mr. Corbin said he expects a large crowd.

Bad weather last Friday night cut attendance, Mr. Corbin believed. For that reason, the Glenville game is being opened to fans at reduced prices to try to get a fair estimate of how many more people would attend if ticket prices are cut.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Prices have been $1 and 50 cents, respectively. About 500 attended the Hayesville game, Mr. Corbin estimated.

Miss Kelly Entertains With 3-Table Canasta
Miss Lassie Kelly entertained at Kelly's Inn Saturday afternoon with three tables of canasta.

Mrs. Pearl Hunter was the winner of high score, Mrs. M. L. Dowdle won low, and Mrs. W. A. Rogers received the draw prize.

At the conclusion of the game, a sweet course was served by the hostess.

J. A. Sutton Honored For 25 Years With Power Company

James A. Sutton, Sr., of Bryson City, was guest of honor at a banquet last Friday night, the affair marking his 25th anniversary with Alcoa.

Fifty friends and fellow employees of the Nantahala Power and Light Company were present for the event, held at Slagle Memorial Building.

John M. Archer, Jr., president of Nantahala Power and Light Company, presented the honoree with a 25-year Alcoa service pin and a cash honorarium in recognition of his long period of faithful service. Another reward will be an additional vacation allowance, which will entitle Mr. Sutton to a total of four weeks' vacation with pay during the next twelve months, Mr. Archer said.

Mr. Sutton was originally employed as an office clerk by the Alcoa organization April 1, 1926, at Santeetlah. Mr. Sutton served on Alcoa construction jobs until 1930. In 1936 he was employed by Nantahala Company in Franklin; he was transferred to Bryson City in 1941 as manager of the company's Bryson City office, the position he now holds.

Mr. Sutton is the seventh person to receive a 25-year Alcoa service pin while employed by Nantahala Company.

Tax Listing Off To Smooth Start, Murray Reports

The job of listing property for the county's taxes is under way.

If Franklin Township is a fair sample, then things are going smoothly in this revaluation year. Frank I. Murray, lister for this township, said about 75 people a day have come to the courthouse to list their property.

"I'd say they're very cooperative," he said. "We're not making any radical changes in valuations, just a slight adjustment here and there."

County Gets Bills For Fees In Ledford Death Investigation

The Board of County Commissioners got the bill Monday for fees in the investigation of the slaying of C. L. (Cecil) Ledford, Cartoogechaye storekeeper fatally shot Christmas Eve.

For the coroner, the fee was $10; for the sheriff, $4.50; and for Dr. J. W. Kahn, $50 (X-rays, photographs, and shot removal).

The sum of $24, owed to the members of the coroner's jury, was returned to the county by the jurors with the request that it be given to the school fund.

Miss Jones' Broken Arm Now Out Of Cast

Miss Laura M. Jones, who broke her left arm in a fall about two months ago, has the limb out of the cast now.

She suffered the mishap when she tripped and tumbled down the attic stairs at her home on the Georgia road.

Asked if she had ventured back up those stairs since her fall, she replied:

"Oh yes. I went to the attic the very first day I got home from the hospital. I wanted to see if I could come down like a lady." This time, Miss Jones made the descent without incident.

First Aid Course To Get Under Way Here On Monday

An American Red Cross first aid course will get under way Monday in Franklin, through the auspices of the local squadron of Civil Air Patrol.

The general public is invited to enroll for the 18-hour course, which is to be instructed by Mac Whitaker and A. C. Tysinger, A. R. C. first aid instructors and members of C. A. P.

Sessions are slated twice weekly, on Mondays and Thursdays, from 7 until 9 a. m. at the fire department in the town hall on West Main.

The instructors have emphasized that a person registering for the course must carry through for the full 18 hours in order to receive a standard A. R. C. first aid certificate.

"We're not interested in having people who just plan to hit the high spots," Mr. Whitaker explained.
