

Macon's Community Development To Be Talked By Agent In Raleigh

County Agent T. H. Fagg has a speaking engagement slated in Raleigh the first of next week. Furthermore, he'll be using his favorite subject—rural community development progress in Macon County.

Several hundred bankers, farmers, and extension officials from over the state are expected to attend.

Mr. Fagg
Conference Speaker

The county agent is to be one of several speakers addressing the third annual Farm Credit Conference at N. C. State College Monday and Tuesday. His talk on Macon's successes as one of the leaders in development work is to tie in with a discussion of the W. N. C. Rural Community Development Program, which is sponsored by the Asheville Agricultural Development Council. Appearing with him will be George H. V. Cecil, John Spicer, Avery Fonda, Morris L. McGough, and Claude Henson, all Ashevilleans, who have figured prominently in the program and its annual contest.

N. C. State and the N. C. Bankers Association are jointly sponsoring the credit conference.

Local Talent Will Appear On TV Show

Through talent and fact, Franklin is to be featured on a 30-minute telecast tomorrow (Friday) night at 7 o'clock over WFBC-TV, Greenville, S. C.

The talent consists of six special acts selected here Saturday night from among 30 acts that auditioned for the "Bob Cox TV Talent Show", a program originating over WFBC-TV. The fact will center several points of interest in and around Franklin.

Sponsored by the Little League Baseball organization, Saturday night's talent competition was held in the Franklin High gymnasium.

The winners, who will appear on television, are the Henson Trio, vocalists Mary Lou Cabe and Jessie Carpenter, the Franklin Square Dance Team, a trio composed of Sue Bailey, Myrtis Cabe, and Coleen Clouse, Neddy Bryson at the piano, and vocalists Kathleen and Peggy Roberts. The first three winners are slated to compete in four-state competition in Spartanburg later in the year.

A profit of more than $400 was realized by the Little League, according to Robert C. (Bob) Carpenter, president. In expressing his thanks to all who cooperated in the venture he singled out Woodrow Franklin and Doug Simpson for duty "above and beyond".

League officials plan to use the money to light the ball park for night baseball.

SING AT BETHEL

The regular second Sunday singing convention of the southern division of the Macon County Singing Convention is slated for the Bethel Methodist Church Feb. 10 beginning at 1:45 p. m. Tom Henson, secretary, invites all singers and the public to attend.

Lions Drive For Blind To Open Monday

Franklin Lions will be knocking on front doors all over town Monday night requesting donations for the club's annual White Cane Drive for the blind.

Heading the drive is J. Ward Long and other members of the blind committee. The door-to-door campaign is slated to start at 7:30, following the Lions' weekly supper meeting.

A quota of $350 has been set for the club, Mr. Long said this week. Of the amount, 45 per cent remained here for work with the blind and the rest goes to the N. C. State Association for the Blind, a non-profit organization created by the Lions Clubs of the state. However, the balance will be returned here if needed, he said.

The Lions also plan to carry their campaign to rural communities and to business sections at intervals during the remainder of the month. Mr. Long said the club probably will send a representative to each organized community meeting to briefly explain the club's work with the blind and to request assistance.

Locally, the club spends an average of $700 on the blind and needy each year, the chairman revealed. This past year it spent $430 for glasses alone. Funds over and above those allotted from the White Cane Drive are raised with other club projects, including an annual broom sale.

Assisting Mr. Long with campaign planning are J. W. Goodwin, Vance Rucker, Dr. J. L. Hill, Jr., and Prelo Dryman.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hembree, of Dillard, Ga., spent Sunday visiting Mr. Hembree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hembree, in Kyle. Paul Bryant has returned to his home in Kyle, after spending a week visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prince, in High Point.

FLYERS, being the strange breed that they are, just had to be doing something around the Macon County Airport last Thursday, even though the Little Tennessee spoiled chances of getting a plane off the ground—unless it was a sea plane. So, to work off this excess energy, they rounded up a boat and flew (er... we mean boated) on the field. In the picture, pilot Howard Stewart is at the controls with a couple of passengers.

Farmers Get Loans Totaling $98,865 From F.H.A. Agency

Farmers in Macon obtained loans totaling $98,865 through the Farmers Home Administration during the last year, Ray F. Hemphill, the agency's county supervisor, said this week.

Repayments on loans outstanding during the year totaled $24,966.

The agency has advanced credit to buy equipment, livestock, and other farm operating items needed to place farms on an efficient operating basis, and to buy and improve family-type farms, he said.

The local F. H. A. committee must approve each loan application before funds can be advanced. The committee determines all loan applicants' eligibility and certifies the value of farms to be purchased or improved if those actions are involved. It also makes recommendations on loan approvals and servicing actions.

Applicants are approved as eligible only if other lenders cannot adequately supply their credit needs and only if prospects are favorable for their being able to improve their farming and repay their loans. Families are expected to refinance their loans with other lenders as soon as they are in position to do so, Mr. Hemphill explained.
