COWEE GROUP HEARS SAFETY TALKS BY MEN

Sherriel And Hooper On Program; School Has United Benefit

By MRS. GEORGE BYRD
(Community Reporter)

Approximately 50 persons directed their attention to talks by Joe Sherriel, field representative with the state highway division, and R. V. Hooper, state license examiner, at Thursday night's monthly meeting of the Cowee Rural Community Development Organization.

The men stressed the importance of attitude in highway safety. A Billy Graham film on highway safety also was shown in connection with the program. In the film, Mr. Graham said anyone who is careless and breaks traffic laws is also breaking the Golden Rule.

Three Sunbeams from the Cowee Baptist Church, Ricky and Mack Brogden and Susie Gibson, gave the devotional with songs, stories, and Bible verses. Miss Josephine Zoper, the Sunbeam leader, directed the devotional.

Fred McGaha, chairman of seeding the banks at the school grounds asked Lem Clark, Luther Raby, and John Hurst to serve with him on this committee. A date to do the work will be set later.

Mrs. McGaha was named chairman of a committee to secure and set shrubs on the school grounds.

Jane Byrd, reporter for the Snow Hill Methodist Church, reported an adult fellowship has been organized in connection with the M. Y. F. on Sunday nights. The Rev. Paul Heafner, pastor, was in charge of a four-week study course just completed. One Sunday School room has been painted by members and plans are to paint the three remaining rooms soon. The young adult class held its regular meeting with a pot luck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Byrd.

A united benefit was held at the School Saturday night and $243 was raised. The Cowee P.T.A.
