clubs and most are now preparing floats.

Penny-a-vote campaigns now under way in the schools are selecting contestants for the county king and queen of 4-H contest. The winning couple will ride in the lead car of the parade through the downtown section of Franklin.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. All floats are asked to assemble on Church Street near the Agricultural Building by 9.

A number of 4-H window displays are being planned, Mrs. Hennessee said. They will not be erected until Monday afternoon, the 4th.

All 4-H girls over the county with long time records are preparing to enter the state records competition during the week, she added.

'Evangelism' Theme Of Baptist Gathering Sunday

"Evangelism" will be the theme of a meeting of the Macon Baptist Associational Sunday School Convention Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Newman's Chapel.

David Chastain, host superintendent, will lead the devotional. Short talks will be given by the Rev. C. T. Taylor on "The Meaning of Evangelism" and Mrs. I. T. Peek, member of First church, on "Methods of Evangelism".

The Rev. Arvil Swafford, pastor of Ridgecrest and Watauga churches, will bring the main message of the evening. Special music is planned for the program, according to Bill Higdon, associational Sunday School superintendent.

Simpson Still Keeps Little League Post

Doug Simpson, who resigned last week as president of the parents' organization of the Little League and Babe Ruth associations, is still vice-president of the Little League Baseball Association.

By resigning and thus eliminating the conflicting interests of the two jobs, Mr. Simpson felt he could do a much better job by concentrating his efforts on the young boys and their league.
