Rural Contest
Deadlines
Are Nearing

Deadlines for the county and area rural community development contests are nearing and activities within organized communities are centering on family score sheets and scrapbooks. While the county contest will not officially be over until Oct. 31, judging of the communities is tentatively slated for the week of Oct. 21, according to County Agent T. H. Fagg. Details are now being worked out, he said this week, including a prize schedule for the winning communities.

Mr. Fagg said about 10 communities are expected to be in the competition.

The deadline for the area contest is Nov. 1. Sponsored by the Asheville Agricultural Development Contest, this event offers more than $1,500 in cash prizes to the best communities.

As in the past, judging in both contests will be on the basis of community organization and development and improvement in family living.

They're Using
Lots Of Red
Ink At FHS

Financially speaking, Franklin High's athletic department is a big consumer of red ink.

As of Sept. 20, Principal C. K. Olson reports the department was operating with a deficit of $5,733.74.

The department started the 1957-58 year with a deficit of $1,423.74. Equipment needed to put the football squad on the field, and other sports items, quickly added $4,467.81 to this amount, bringing the grand total to $5,981.55.

Payment of $1,008.59 from game receipts reduced the debt by that amount.

Mr. Olson said the school hopes to clear a way a big part of this debt during the school year, but he doubts that the entire amount can be erased.

A lot will depend on the success of the basketball season. Football does well to break even financially, the principal explained, but basketball can bring in good profits. Franklin landing a basketball tournament could help relieve the situation, he said.

Mr. Olson said the athletic department suffered financially during the two years the high school was without a gymnasium. During this period, basketball home games were played on other courts.

Two Groups Visit
Coweta Laboratory

Two visiting delegations were guests this past week at Coweta Hydrologic Laboratory. Fourteen students and a professor from the College of Forestry, Syracuse University, were there Thursday and Friday for a tour.

Saturday, 15 Soil Conservation Service officials who had been attending the fourth annual Watershed Congress in Atlanta, Ga., stopped off for a brief visit.

TO SEEK HELP

A delegation of citizens plans to visit the Monday meeting of the Macon Board of County Commissioners to seek help in establishing an animal shelter for strays in Franklin. The commissioners meet at 9:30 a. m. in the register of deeds office.

A.W.O.L. Sailor
And Girl Turned Over To F.B.I.

An A. W. O. L. sailor from the carrier USS Valley Forge and a woman with a Norfolk, Va., address have been turned over to the F. B. I., following their arrest here Friday by Highway Patrolman H. T. Ferguson.

The officer said they were driving an automobile stolen in Oklahoma City, Okla., on Sept. 23.

He identified the couple as Melton Dale Smith, 18, of Oklahoma City, who is reported to have left his ship in Norfolk on Sept. 1, and Isabelle Carty, 24, of Norfolk.

Patrolman Ferguson stopped them on US 64 near the Cartoogehaye Baptist Church after receiving information they were trying to cash worthless checks in Franklin. Smith had stolen driver's license, he said.

The officer found two counter checks from the Bank of Franklin made out for $63 and $81. He said the couple attempted to cash them at Baldwin's Super Market and at Western Union at Angel's Drug Store. Patrolman Ferguson said Smith apparently got the checks while in the bank.

The F. B. I. took both of them into custody Monday on the stolen automobile charge.
