A 'LIVE-WIRE' PILOT — Andrews Man Flies Nantahala's Lines

ANDREWS—Meet up with Edgar Woods, a "live wire" pilot in every sense of the word. A licensed flight instructor, he's an exceptionally skillful pilot and one who never fails to instill a few words to the wise about flying safety to his students.

Flies Lines

In the literal definition, he's a "live wire" pilot because he does just that—flies the wires. Edgar who owns and operates, in addition to other sidelines, the Andrews-Murphy Airpark has a contract with Nantahala Power and Light Company's to troubleshoot its 175 miles of lines in the mountainous reaches of Clay, Cherokee, Graham, Macon, Jackson, and Swain counties.

Special Plane

This kind of work demands precision flying on the part of the pilot. Edgar qualifies at this. It also demands some specialized equipment if the pilot "expects" to return to his wife and kids, he quips. For flying Nantahala Power's lines once a quarter, Edgar installed a 90 h.p. engine in his Piper Cub with the end result that this "hot rod" Cub can run SEE NO. 1, PAGE 5
