Jones Is Member Of State Civil War Centennial Group

Weimar Jones, of THE PRESS staff, has been invited to serve as a member of the Civil War Centennial Committee of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association for the State of North Carolina.

He will attend a meeting of the committee in Raleigh October 10. One of the items of business at this session will be preparation of a request to be brought to the 1959 General Assembly for the setting up a permanent commission for the purpose of celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Civil War.

The National Assembly of the Civil War Centennial Commission, headed by General U.S. Grant, III, had its first meeting in January, 1958. Congress has voted an annual appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose.

Colonel Hugh Dortch, of Goldsboro, is the chairman of the North Carolina committee.

School Bus Goes Into Field, But No One Is Hurt

No one was hurt Wednesday morning of last week when a school bus loaded with 33 children ran off a narrow road and into a field, according to Highway Patrolman H. T. Ferguson.

The officer identified the driver as Jerry Carrol Gibson, a 12th grader.

Jerry told the patrolman he was meeting a car on the narrow Matlock Creek Road and when he pulled off on a shoulder to allow room for passing the bus slid down a small bank into the field. The bus was undamaged.

Patrolman Ferguson said no charges would be filed against young Gibson, following an investigation.

(Editor's Note: This recipe is a corrected reprint. One published recently, through error, came out with enough baking powder to supply a bakery for a month.)

Jiffy Cobbler
1 stick butter or margarine
1 cup flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
2/3 cup milk
3 to 4 cups fruit, sweetened to taste.

Melt butter or margarine in 8-inch casserole dish. Stir flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together; add milk, stirring until just blended. Spoon carefull over melted butter. DO NOT STIR. Pour sweetened fruit over batter. Bake in 375 degree F. oven for about 35 minutes. Serve warm with cream or ice cream.

If peaches or cherries are used, add 1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring.)

COMMITTEE APPOINTED —

Fair Officials Discuss Financing Livestock Barn

Fair officials reviewed this year's Macon County Fair at a session Tuesday night of last week and came up with at least two decisions concerning next year's.

Because of the success of the benefit barbecue supper at the fair this year, (August 21-22-23) it definitely will be included in the '59 program. Also, the local talent program tried this year for the first time, will again get top billing.

Discussed by the officials was the possibility of raising funds for a livestock barn for the fair. The absence of such a facility hurt participation in all stock events, it was pointed out. The idea of not awarding premiums at the fair for a couple of years to finance the livestock barn was discussed, but no definite action was taken. It was reported that some winners this year were content with ribbons and turned premium money back to the fair association.

A nomination committee was appointed to pick a slate of new officers. On the committee are Mrs. Paul Ammons, chairman, H. A. Wilhite, and Mrs. Sidney Clay.

The committee plans its next meeting in January, at which time an advertising program for the '59 fair will be developed. This also will include publication and distribution of the fair catalogs at least two months prior to the fair.

'Like Mother, Like Daughter' Now Has Proof In County

By Virginia M. Nance
(Items this week on: Macon, Cabarrus, McDowell and Hertford Counties)

DAUGHTER TAKES OVER
"Like mother, like daughter" proved to be true when Mrs. Algie McCall, home demonstration club member from Franklin, N. C., became temporary manager of the Macon County Home Demonstration Club Market recently.

According to Mrs. Florence S. Sherrill, home agent, her mother, Mrs. Ella Peek, was recuperating from surgery and was unable to look after things at the market herself. All agree that Mrs. McCall, her daughter, certainly did a wonderful job of managing the market in her mother's place.

Mrs. McCall was a former 4-H Club member and a garden project winner during the second World War. In fact, she won a thousand dollar bond in the Green Thumb Contest for Juniors during those years she was a 4-H member. Now she is the mother of two children. During her mother's illness, she pitched in to harvest vegetables for sale on the curb market.

BAKING CHERRY PIES

The song, "Can You Bake a Cherry Pie" need never be sung to Barbara Brawley, 4-H Club member in Cabarrus County, since she is already practicing for the annual Cherry Pie Baking Contest, being held in the state this fall during the Southern States Fair.

In her eight years as a club member, Barbara has taken an interest in and participated in the contest four years. Sara M. Stewart, assistant home demonstration agent, says Barbara is well known in the county for her delicious cherry pies, so she's planning to give all the other entrants a "run for their money" in the state contest.

But making cherry pies isn't all that Barbara can do. She's an old-timer at planning and preparing meals for her family, and the 4-H food preparation project is her favorite. This year she is planning to enter her long-time record in food preparation for state competition.

OUTLET FOR SEWING

There's one young 4-H Club girl from McDowell County who has found a new outlet for her sewing talent. According to Julia Ann Smith, assistant home demonstration agent, she is Linda Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson, Old Fort, Route 2, and her latest accomplishment was receiving the first place award in the Junior Dress Revue last spring.

Her new found interest, however, is making back-to-school dresses for her neighbor's six-year-old girl to wear to school this fall.

Linda, who saw this opportunity to add to her clothing project record, says she doesn't plan to charge anything for making the first dress until she sees that her customer is well satisfied.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

The Young Men and Women's Organization, composed of former 4-H Club members and sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, has an active chapter in Hertford County. And they have decided to adopt as their project for the coming year the promotion of county highway safety.

They carried out the first phase of their program over the Labor Day week end when they cooperated with the local highway patrol in setting up roadblocks on Highways 13 and 258, say reports from Assistant Home Agent Barbara M. Stephens. Club members worked at the roadblocks with the patrolmen and handed out literature urging motorists to "slow down and live."

Miss Stephens says this is just the beginning of their concentrated efforts to promote highway safety during the year.
