CONCRETE PIPE

for trouble-free sewer service

A sewer installation represents an important investment of your tax dollars. That's why it pays to investigate the advantages of concrete sewer pipe. Here are three reasons why concrete pipe is the first choice of public officials and engineers:

1. Durability: Some concrete pipe sewers are still on the job after 90 and even 100 years.
2. Economy: Concrete pipe's low first cost, low maintenance, and long life mean low annual cost.
3. Outstanding Performance: Concrete pipe carries sewage safely and dependably. Concrete pipe's tight joints reduce leakage. This means surrounding soil is not contaminated by sewage. Tight joints keep out ground water which overloads the system and puts additional burdens on the treatment plant.

Remember, rugged concrete pipe sewers offer you unequalled durability, dependability and economy.
