Mass Meeting of

It is proposed by many farmers of the county the biggest meeting of farmers on New Year's Day held in Moore county at a meeting is brought about for reasons. At this party every one is having his share of loss and his part to bear about such changes that to get things back to normal. At this meeting Mr. Poe, editor of the Progress and Mr. T. B. Parker, cotton commissioner, will be the speakers of the day, while a number of local men will be on hand. After the special address will be thrown open for discussion and allow the farmers of the county to offer suggestions which will be helpful.

At this meeting permanent action of the Tobacco Growers Association will be perfected and equipped other farmers be given that will be just as helpful as the tobacco growers. Only one subject for discussion doesn't matter what you are large or small, share-cropper or landlord, you should be nothing like starting a fight.

When the first of the year how many of us really know we are going to do? Have you got your plans completed for the crops? How many have mortgages? How many all they owe? How many marketed all their crops? Have you made their 1921 crop supply and paid up all the bills and ready to go in with a new zeal? Have you taxes? Have you paid them? And have you paid the duties are only a few things to consider and as a get-together there is no better way of meeting of every farmer. Let's be prepared to do things that will be helpful in placing our farms on a paying basis.

At 1 o'clock there will be a dinner in the big new house where we will have together. Every farmer bring his dinner and the coffee and other refreshments free by a local committee business in shape so you New Year's Day with farmers and be in Cartersville at 1 o'clock. MARION
