

Cameron

Mr. W. C. Spivey, popular mail carrier, on Route 2, and progressive citizen of Cameron is the first to head my subscription list to The Pilot for 1921. Next.

Mr. E. M. Borst and son, Mr. Mason Borst, of Wilmington, returned last week, from a visit to Mrs. Borst's aunt, Mrs. Alex Blue of Hoke county.

Master Guy Matthews left Saturday, for Siloam in Surry county, where he will attend school.

The young ladies Auxiliary will meet Jan. 25, at 3:30 with Mrs. Jewel Hemphill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Borst and little son, H. A. Jr., of Vass spent Sunday with the family of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Borst.

Miss Johnsie Douglas, on Route 1, spent Sunday with Miss Myrtle Gaddy.

Miss Elizabeth Ray left Monday, for an extended visit to her home in Carthage. Miss Ray is a favorite with all the Cameron people, and we hope to have back with us real soon.

Mr. Arch McRae of Carthage was a visitor in town Monday.

Mr. M. McL. McKithen killed some fine porkers Monday. The larger weighed 423 pounds. Good grub at McKeithen's.

Mrs. Alex. F. Jones, widow of Dr. Jones who met such a tragic death in Cameron, a few months ago, arrived Monday. She was accompanied by her sister Mrs. Johnson. They are guests of Mrs. M. D. McNeill.

Mrs. B. J. Smith of Vanceboro, arrived Tuesday for a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. D. McLean, who is in indifferent health.

Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Joyner spent Monday with their daughter Mrs. Cotton Godfrey of Jonesboro.

Miss Ruth McKay of Carthage Route was the guest of the correspondent Monday.

Mr. Mason Borst returned Sunday to Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Thomas, formerly of Vass, expect to move at an early date to their home in Cameron, known as the McDugald place on railroad street.

There will be a community sing at Cameron graded school building, on Friday night, January 21st. A selection of old time sacred and secular songs are on the program. Come out all ye old time warblers, and show how well you can warble. Hot coffee, hot chocolate, sandwiches, home made candy, and other things to sell, also recitations that will amuse and interest you. Proceeds for the Womens Betterment association.

From the way it was mangled my introductory letter of reminiscence of last week, must have encountered a severe wreck en route to destination.

Miss Annie McFadyen who teaches at Jackson Springs, and her brother, Mr. M. J. McFadyen of Aberdeen spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Flora McFadyen.

Mr. A. Fitzhugh Marion, on Route 2, and Miss Lula M. Norman from near Cameron, were married Sunday afternoon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. M. D. McNeill.

Mrs. W. A. Parham of White Hill, was the guest last week of Mrs. R. C. Thomas.

Mrs. W. H. Olive, now domiciled with the correspondent, killed a hen last week, that weighed eight pounds, after being dressed. We've been enjoying baked chicken, chicken stew and chicken salad "and that's the way to spell chicken."

I won't bother to consult my dictionary or rhetoric this week. It won't show any "larnin'," if I should.

Mrs. Lula Stephens spent Sunday at her home at Lakeview but was back in time for afternoon services at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McNeill and Miss Ada McNeill were visitors at Carthage Saturday afternoon.

Last week a youth apparently of 16 years, giving his name as Marion Baird from Los Angeles, Cal., landed in town from the "Carthage train," and destitute as to clothing. He asked for a job saying he wished to earn money to pay his way to his home at Los Angeles. He said he had ran away from his mother, and joined the navy, but at Norfolk, Va., he was given $100 and discharged on account of his youth. He seemed to have spent all of his money.

Mr. D. J. Pierce of Borderlee, took him home with him give him clothes and engaged him to work on his farm and in the meantime Mr. Pierce wrote the boy's mother at Los Angeles informing her of her son and of his destitution. The mother wired at once, "keep Marion Baird, will send railroad ticket at once for his return. Very grateful." Mr. Pierce for about a week, and was at work in a field. When Mr. Pierce went to find him and deliver the welcome message, the boy had left for parts unknown. He seems to have been afflicted with the wander lust, or hoboitis.

Mrs. D. J. Pierce, Jr., and little daughter, victoria of Charlotte, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Pierce of Borderlee.

[Continued from page one]
JACKSON SPRINGS.

If officers would catch more block-aders there would be fewer stills to capture. An ex-football man would tackle a man as they do in their games, while the present officers shoot and hurry the offender of the law on.

The whiskey made Saturday must have been of superior quality to the most of the moonshine made, for no doubt if very much of the contents of the jug every finds its way to court.

When in town call on Vass Mercantile Company

And get their prices on GOODS. We have sacrificed our profits, and marked our goods down to what the prevailing prices will be. And as the price of

Cotton is on the Up-Grade

We will soon expect a rise in prices. Now is the time to take an inventory of your farming implements, and get ready for the years work. We carry a line of

Oliver 1 and 2-horse Plows
Cole Distributors
Cole Cotton and Corn Planters
Boy Dixie Plows
And a Full Line of Castings

We will be glad to show you our line, with the very best prices.

Vass Mercantile Company

VASS, N. C.

VOLUME
1

SUBSCRIPTION $

Cameron

Mrs. H. D. Tally has ed acting postmistress Mr. J. B. Turnley having Miss Lila Holt, of the guest this week Mrs. I. E. Goodwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Glyde their twenty-five-pour old baby girl, came over Sunday to to visit T. C. Gaddy.

Mr. W. A. Muse spent end in Hamlet.

Misses Myrtle and are visiting at Mr. and Thompson's, Route 1.

The community sing very pleasantly and enjoyable occasion. Singers did themselves They were ably assisted Robert Cole of White Ety. The recitations by Hemphill, and Miss Eald, were very much e

There was a large Thursday night to see who did some wonderful stunts.

Misses Annie Clegg, Cole, attended the tea here Saturday, and w Misses Mamie and K their hospitable home ron.

Misses Margaret Th Hartsell, Mr. Ira Th over to Carbonton Sunday on the families of McLeod and Mr. Evelyn They also visited the ernor Benjamin Willi the new monument th ly been erected at the ernor Williams.

Miss Lady Mary Lov er Mr. Julian Loving came home for over S tended services at church.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. erdeen and Mr. and Sinclair, and Charles thage were here Saturday Mr. H. T. Petty.

Honorable R. L. Bu ly, Mrs. Howard Mus Dupree and daughter were guests Sunday a family of Mrs. Lula

Mrs. M. D. McNeill Rev. M. D. McNeill St ly and Cypress, when filled his appointment the dinner guests of Alec Cameron of Man

Miss Callie Hunte from Charlotte Sunday