Where the Laugh Comes In BY NAMLIG

KNEW HIS BUSINESS

Housewife—"The big fish all seem to get away, did you ever know a fish to grow larger after being caught?"

Fish dealer—"Yes, mum."

Housewife—"Why where?"

Fish dealer—"In the scales, mum."

TOUCHY

Slim legs—"Hello; corpulence, your'e getting bigger every year."

Corpulence—"Maybe, but you are getting smaller every minute."

POSSIBLY

First chappie—"I passed Miss Smith to day and she did not know me."

Second chappie—"What of that? she may never want to."

SATISFIED

He had quite a number of bumps on his skull, his scalp was torn, and his face badly used up, but he was satisfied now that he had got ahead (a head) in the world.

DID SHE LOVE HIM?

Servant—"The undertaker is here and says if you don't pay in advance he will attach the body."

Widow—"If he does he will be more attached to him than I ever was."

ODE TO "MOONSHINE"

All Hail—Old moon so golden yellow
You surely are a lucky fellow
You certainly must have a pull
It is so often you get full,

SAY IT WITH VEGETABLES

To the man who borrowed five dollars and has been dodging you for a year.—A Beet.

To the one who has betrayed a secret told him in confidence.—A Leek.

To a friend you want to touch for a loan.
Some Kale.

To the girl you want to marry.—Lettuce.

And less than three weeks are left in which to make out your income tax returns. Please remember that there is an awfully uncomfortable place reserved as the permanent residence of liars.

THE SPHERE OF WOMAN

They talk about a woman's sphere,

As though it has a limit;

There's not a place in Earth or Heaven,

There's not a task to mankind given,

There's not a blessing or a woe,

There's not a whispered "Yes" or "No,"

There's not a life, or death, or birth,

That has a feather's weight of worth,

Without a woman in it.—From the Extension Farm News.

And yet the Pilot man is without a woman, and wonders how he has got along without one. Still there may be time yet.
