

CHILDREN'S DAY

The Methodist Episcopal Church, of this town, was taxed to its seating capacity last Sunday night to hear the children celebrate Children's Day. The program was an excellent one and was rendered superbly by the Sunday School scholars. The church was profusely decorated with flowers. Much credit is due to those that trained the children for the occasion. Program follows:

Song by the congregation, "Let All the People Praise Thee," prayer by Rev. L. H. Joyner; song, "Jesus' Little One's;" recitation, "Good Evening" by Elvin Scott; "This is Our Day," by four children; recitation, "Summer Time Has Come Again," Henry Borst; "Beautiful Gifts for Children's Day," three girls; recitation, "The Gem of Days" by Rebecca Thomas; recitation, "Children are Like Sunshine" by Leonard J. Bliss, Jr.; song, "Count Each Day as a Treasure; recitation, "A Rose in Every Garden," Joseph Matthews; "Helping Together," four girls; recitation, "The Apple Blossom" by Lois Sanford; "Take Time," four boys; "Look for Sunshine," by Edna Allen; "Wake Little Blossom," by five children; recitation, "The Lesson of Children's Day," by J. R. Thomas; song, "Merry Birds are Singing;" recitation, "God Will Understand," Vivian Matthews; recitation, "I'm Only a Little Boy," Bernice Graham; "Flower Drill," by six girls; recitation, "It is Children's Day," Willie Horton Keith; "The Best Day," by two boys; recitation, "Keep Looking for Sunshine," Sallie Thompson; "Making the Summer," by six children; Sunday School address by Mildred Thomas; song, "Gifts for the King; song by the congregation, "All Hail The Power of Jesus Name;" Benediction by the pastor.

EUREKA COMMUNITY CLUB

A special meeting of the Eureka Community Club was held at the school house Thursday of last week and was well attended. The president called the meeting to order and made a few brief remarks.

The Community Fair was the leading topic for discussion and Miss Bertha Profit, home demonstration agent, made an excellent address, followed by several members. It was decided by all present to have one of the best Community Fairs in Moore county.

The chairman of the different departments were then announced.

The subject of marketing was brought before the club and thoroughly discussed by several members, and the subject of marketing will be further discussed at the next meeting of the club which will be Wednesday, June 1st. Following will be the program: Location of a market, paper by Mrs. Z. V. Blue, discussion by Walter McCaskill and Mr. Mills. We should produce the products that are in demand, paper by Martin McLeod, discussion by Mrs. Sarah J. Blue and Miss Hazel Blue. How to market, paper by Miss Ethel Blue, discussion by Marvin Davis and Donald Blue. Standardizing products, paper by John McLeod, discussion by Miss Bessie McCaskill and David McCullom.

Everybody is invited to be present at this meeting, and don't fail to bring some one with you on June first.

BRING HIM BACK

For the love of all that is sensible let's have Grover Bergdoll, rich draft dodger, back from Germany. Not that we want him as a citizen of Vass, not in a thousand years. For if Grover ever happens to settle himself in this community we wouldn't give fifteen cents for his hide and tallow two hours after he hung up his hat. But let's get him back in the United States that we may show others who ducked when Uncle Sam called for aid that no matter how much money a man may have, he isn't too good or too great to peel off his coat and pitch in when there's trouble ahead. Let's show the world that there's something more highly prized than money—and that's patriotism and true manhood. Let's make an example of this rich and pampered do-nothing who has tried to make Uncle Sam look foolish. If the war was still in progress, the firing squad would be his just deserts. But if there are a few faint-hearts who oppose this method, then let's bring him back, stick him in a Federal prison for the balance of his life and forget to worry when the guard overlooks prison etiquette and uses his foot on him.

WHERE THE LAUGH COMES IN

By Namlig

Been There

I feel like I've lost all ambition,
All mirth seems to have gone from me to,

I feel like the very darnation,
And I scarcely know what too do.
I'll tell you the trouble, "kind reader,"
I'm just getting over the "Flu."

Suits Him

Old "Tightwad" who has three daughters seems pleased to find that women are apparently losing the habit of wearing clothes.

Takes the Cake

The other day a wagon in an adjoining county broke down suddenly, among its load was a bag of flour, a bag of sugar, a crate of eggs and a firkin of butter, the result of the mix-up was as fine a cake as ever graced the table at a wedding breakfast.

Some Information

No! Clarissa, the display of calves at a fashionable gathering has no connection whatever with a "Back-To-The-Land" movement, and can in no wise be considered as an agricultural exhibition.

METHODISTS AIM TO RAISE MILLIONS

In the course of an address delivered recently in North Carolina, Hon. Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy said:

"Today Southern Methodists from Texas to Maryland are engaged in an organized movement to raise millions to provide for the teeming members seeking education in Methodist schools and colleges and universities for both men and women. Two years ago the Methodists of America, the largest Protestant church in America, raised $135,000,000 for carrying the gospel to those who sit in the darkness, for church extension. They have now girded their loins for a campaign to raise their education institutions to financial stability and independence, to strengthen faculties, to add new buildings to accommodate the thousands who are knocking in vain for admission, but cannot be accommodated for lack of schoolrooms, dormitories, teachers and laboratories. We live in a day of specialization and colleges must provide the facilities and apparatus for ambitious youths, or they fail of their duty and their opportunity. The states are generously and wisely increasing appropriations for enlargements. Nearly every great college in America has been blessed and strengthened by large increase in its endowment during the past few years. Are Methodist institutions to lack the best in equipment, in teaching, in facilities?"

You can't get 'em to confess it, but it's easier for some Vass boys to make love than it is to make a living.

JACKSON SPRING

On Tuesday of last week a number of farmers gathered at the home of M. C. Poole to plan for planting corn. It rained and sickness in Mr. Poole's family he was thrown far behind in farm work and was surprised to find so many teams ready to work and plant his corn in the lands in this County on Jackson Creek. A good day would have been not only natives of Moore and neighbor Counties, Monticello, Richmond, but farmers who have developed farms here from Gaston, Anson and Starke Counties. These are the kind of people who see move in here to buy idle land and shows own spirit.

We did not have as large a crowd here for our hotel opening as usual, but considering the time the opening was not known so well in many places had a very large crowd. It is expected to hold its own in financial depression for a year known far and near.

Miss Ruth Patterson and her family goes to Raleigh this week for a young peoples conference.

Rev. R. G. Matheson and family arrived Thursday for Fountain Springs where they will visit Friday. Matheson preaches his church in Fountain Inn and to the Presbyterian Church their son and brother go week.

Miss Mary, daughter of S. Poole, of Raeford, is who received the B. M. Flora McDonald College.

Messrs. Shelton Poole and Patterson are at home at College. Fred Monroe from the same institute is spending the day night shaking hands with friends.

College men and women are home for their vacation to find a garage and new living apartments up and erected. Now they are other garage and a cafe.

A college boosters club of college men will be organized some time soon.

His many friends will know that Calvin Pegram, formerly of the 1st section was elected to Representatives, the body of student government College.

Student government will meet the students in April by the Trustees after several days. The student government begin with the opening of the fall and will remove has caused some of the at the State institution.
