JACKSON SPRINGS

On Tuesday of last week a large number of farmers gathered at the home of M. C. Poole to prepare his land for planting corn. By continued rains and sickness in Mr. Pooles family he was thrown far behind with his farm work and was surprised to find so many teams ready to plow, disc, and plant his corn in the bottom lands in this County on Drowning Creek. A good days work was done by not only natives of Moore and her neighbor Counties, Montgomery and Richmond, but farmers who have developed farms here from Cleveland, Gaston, Anson and Stanly Counties. These are the kind of people we like to see move in here to develop our idle land and shows our community spirit.

We did not have as large a crowd here for our hotel opening and dance as usual, but considering such a short time the opening was advertised and not known so well in many towns we had a very large crowd. Our resort is expected to hold its own during the financial depression for our resort is known far and near.

Miss Ruth Patterson and Sam Diling goes to Raleigh this week for a young peoples conference at Peace Institute.

Rev. R. G. Matheson and family left Thursday for Fountain Inn, S. C. where they will visit friends and Mr. Matheson preaches his old pastoral church in Fountain Inn before going to the Presbyterian College where their son and brother graduates this week.

Miss Mary, daughter of Editor D. S. Poole, of Raeford, is among those who received the B. M. degree at Flora McDonald College this year.

Messrs. Shelton Poole and Freeman Patterson are at home from State College. Fred Monroe of Biscoe, from the same institute was here Saturday night shaking hands with old friends.

College men and women who came home for their vacation were pleased to find a garage and new store with living apartments upstairs newly erected. Now they are building another garage and a cafe.

A college boosters club by former college men will be organized here some time soon.

His many friends were pleased to know that Calvin Pegram of Lincoln, formerly of the Jones Springs section was elected to the House of Representatives, the law-making body of student government at State College.

Student government was granted the students in April by the Board of Trustees after several years petitioning. The student government will begin with the opening of college in the fall and will remove friction that has caused some of the disturbance at the State institution.

Mrs. Victoria McKenzie gave her primary Sunday School class a picnic (Continued on page 7)

JOHNSONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson motored to Mt. Gilead Sunday, to spend the day with Mrs. Johnson's aunt, Mrs. L. D. Frutchey.

The Pineview Base Ball team had a game scheduled with the team from Olivia last Saturday. Thru some misunderstanding, the Olivia team failed to put in it's appearance at Pineview, but arranged a game instead with the Broadway Club. The Pineview team journeyed to Olivia and witnessed the game, which resulted in a victory for the boys from Broadway. At the conclusion of the game, the Pineview team played a game with the pick of the Olivia and Broadway teams, and took them into camp to the tune of 15 to 12. After playing a few more practice games with suburban teams, the Pineview team will launch upon its regular schedule.

At an early date regular preaching services will be announced for Cameron Hill Church. The Rev. E. B. Carr has been called to the circuit of which Cameron Hill is a member, and is now domiciled in the manse at Mt. Pisgah.

Mr. F. W. Hancock, Jr., President of the Never-Fail Land Co., spent several days in and around Pineview during the past week. He was accompanied by several of the stock holders in his company, all of whom are very enthusiastic over the prospects for development in this section. They are planning to put out a large acreage in peaches next fall, and their lead is being followed by others in the community. For fruit growing our lands are as good as can be found anywhere, and the day is not far distant when dew berries and peaches will be leaving Pineview in car load lots daily.

Several auto parties have been taking advantage of the beautiful nights recently to drive to Lakeview and enjoy the festivities at that popular resort.

Mr. J. B. Johnson and Mr. Bryant Bruce, of Overhills, spent Sunday with friends at Pineview.

Mr. J. A. Spivey, formerly of Johnsonville, now serving as sheriff McArtan's chief deputy at Lillington, visited friends and relatives here Sunday.
