

JACKSON SPRINGS

On Friday evening, at the high school auditorium, a mock trial will be given, and some fun is expected. The proceeds will go to the Athletic Association.

On Saturday evening uncle Joshua will be at the auditorium with his auditorium with his violin, and those who have heard him say his entertainments are good. A large crowd is expected. Part of the proceeds will go for the benefit of the school library.

Rockingham high school forfeited the basket ball game on Friday afternoon to the Derby Memorial boys by not showing up. The Rockingham girls were on hand and sprang a surprise, winning their game from the Derby girls by a 34 to 9 score. The Derby youngsters expect to play Ellerbe in Rockingham one day this week, and are expecting a hard game. Ellerbe lost to the Durham highs on Saturday night in the elimination series for the state championship in basket ball, and after winning several important games over the state they should outclass the Derby boys.

Her many friends will learn with interest that Mrs. D. B. Johnson, of the Johnson House, continues to improve after being confined to her home here. She spent Thursday in Raeford; and was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. V. C. McKenzie.

A large crowd was out for the community moving picture show on Thursday night, at the school auditorium.

Miss Patty Marks spent the weekend with home folks in Albemarle; she was accompanied home by Miss Lucile Eifort of West End, another one of our popular teachers, and Alton Smith of the senior class. Miss Eifort and Mr. Smith went over to Charlotte on Saturday, returning on Sunday; while there Mr. Smith called on his sister who graduated in high school here last year, and is now taking nurses' training at St. Peter's hospital.

Some of the orchard men finished pruning their peach trees last week, and now have their trees sprayed. Others are far behind with their work, having many acres to plant in peaches.

The suggestion for a Board of Agriculture is good and is worthy of discussion. We are behind some counties in agriculture, and it would mean some encouragement to the dirt farmer, and assistance from a Board would be valuable.

The wood supply is plentiful on nearly all farms, but if we raise tobacco it will be very scarce for home use in a few years. Some of the farmers who have a good supply of wood do not take care of it, while others get their pine wood from wherever they can. On one large farm that was stumped this winter there was enough wood burnt to last the people on the farm for several years. There is probably coal in this section, but it will be a long time before it will be developed as a winning region.

For several weeks whiskey appeared to be a thing of the past here, but for several days it has come back into use; another raid will have to be made wherever the whiskey is coming from, it seems to be plentiful. On Sunday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, some young men lost in our village left the highway, passed the Johnson House, walked into the garden following a nice row of collards until meeting another fence, they turned around and knocked down other posts and fence. They were nice enough to be quiet and waited to get on the public highway to lose their suppers. They appeared to be in a big hurry, for they never stopped while on the Johnson property and were going at a reckless speed.

On Wednesday afternoon a young man from Red Springs on his way home from Greensboro, running his Ford at a terrific speed, left the Jackson Creek fill and landed in the creek with his car on top of him. J. C. Styles, knowing his danger, caught a car passing and rushed to the scene expecting to find the young man dead, but found him very much alive with some ribs broken and several cuts and bad bruises; he was able to keep his head out of the water. Medical aid was rendered, and a few hours later his father and the family physician arrived from Red Springs; he is now able to be up.

A GOOD FINANCIER

In a certain home there was a 10c fine for each spot made on the table cloth. One day Johnnie was caught rubbing the table cloth with his fingers. Asked what he was doing he replied: "I'm making these two spots into one."

By a ruling of the supreme of Ohio political literature to injure a candidate's reputation to put him in a false light of the law. The court scurrilous letters and circulated during campaigns, which bear the name of the author, law is a good one, and it be in effect in every state in. Occasionally some citizen with an anonymous communication the writer is too cowardly to put his name to, and we the waste basket. The people write such letters to the newspaper and expect them printed and kind who circulate charactering literature during a political campaign. The Ohio law is a good law if it will curb this nuisance. And since it has been held by the highest tribunal in the state we see no reason why other state in the union should hasten to adopt it immediately.

Dear Sir:—Permit me to express my very great pleasure in your very purpose to offer yourself as a candidate for the office of the Superior Court of the District. I know of no person I believe to be as well qualified yourself for the duties and responsibilities of this most important position. By training and temperament, and wide travel, you bring to the bench qualities greatly needed. Added to this is your character without blemish, and your profound knowledge of the law gives us the qualities needed in one who would be of this high and exacting office. I seem to have been formed of an acquaintance but I am pressing not only my own matter but what I have the sentiment of the community.

You are at liberty to use in any way you choose to be of any service to you. You have only to command.
Respectfully yours,
WM. R. BURRELL
