

CAMERON NEWS

In the sick room of M. McL. McKeithen, on Monday night, May 8th, Miss Fay Ritchie, teacher in the Cameron graded school, and Mr. Leighton B. McKeithen were united in marriage, Rev. M. D. McNeill officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gaddy and children, of Sanford, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Gaddy.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McLaughlin, of Vass, Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, of Lohelia, called, Sunday, at the homes of Rev. M. D. McNeill and Mr. M. McL. McKeithen. Glad to report Mr. McKeithen better, and why not, with a new, sweet, and attractive daughter-in-law.

Miss Myrtle Leslie, of Vass, was the guest of Miss Loula Rogers, Monday night.

In his sermon, Sunday, to the graduating class, Rev. M. D. McNeill said they might have all the beauty, all the wealth, culture and refinement, but without purity and goodness of heart it meant nothing.

I have seen instances where some people tried to make other think they were very refined and cultured by showing they were ill bred.

The Idle Hour theatre had a full house Saturday night. Two comedies and a western feature picture, "Texas Belle," the female sheriff.

Misses Minnie and Bonnie Muse are home from teaching at Roberdell high school.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Muse, of Henderson, spent the week-end with Mrs. Loula Muse and family.

Miss Margaret Thomas who has been seriously ill at Rex Hospital, Raleigh, came home Saturday, accompanied by a trained nurse, who remains in attendance.

Mr. J. B. Thomas, of Chatham, is visiting Mr. R. C. Thomas.

Miss Ila Douglas on route 1 is visiting this week at Vass.

Miss Jewell Hemphill spent Tuesday in Carthage.

Mr. T. J. Johnson on route 1 was in town last week, rejoicing over the arrival of a new grandson, born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cameron on route 2.

Mrs. R. A. Smith, of Niagara, was the guest of the correspondent, Sunday.

Mr. W. M. Blue, of Raeford and daughter, Marie, with Misses Rosa, Nell and Vera Cox, of Raeford, were guests, Saturday, at the home of the correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Burt, Misses Mary Mag Campbell and Jane Ewing, of Biscoe, were callers, Sunday afternoon, at the home of the correspondent.

Mrs. Janie Muse returned, Monday, from a week-end visit to her sister, Mrs. Mag Cameron on route 1.

On his way to Carthage Monday, Mr. J. A. Phillips received the information of a still being found and reported on his farm over on route 2. Learning of the location he went to it and found a still of immense size, with about a thousand gallons of beer. He proceeded to Carthage and reported to sheriff Blue and together they returned, destroyed the still and gave the beer to Mother Earth. Mr. Phillips says no charges to the county for the good work done in demolishing. The distillers are still at large.

Mr. Cameron McLean and little daughter, Margaret, of Mississippi, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLean. Mr. Cameron McLean is recently bereaved of his wife who passed away, leaving the little daughter.

The following is an extract from a letter to J. McN. Johnson of Aberdeen, written from Edinburg, Scotland: "I've been 'lang o' comin with my thanks for The Pilot. The story is good, the chapters are short but sweet. 'Tallyrand' has a heart as big and a mind as broad as the author. I also enjoyed other parts of The Pilot especially the four line verse in the Cameron News, April 14th. Did you read it? Will be looking for the next issue."

Messrs. H. P. McPherson and son J. A. McPherson attended the barbecue at the mid-winter boating and canoeing club at Buie's Bridge on the Lumbee River, given by the boards of county commissioners, roads commissioners, and county attorneys of Moore, Hoke, Scotland and Richmond.

Mr. Tom Jones and sister, Miss May, formerly of Cameron, but now of Fayetteville, were in town this week greeting old friends who were delighted to see them looking young and prosperous. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones, of Edgewood.

The correspondent is the recipient of some fine white head cabbage grown this year by Mr. and Mrs. Brown Harrington on route 2.

A head on collision, cars smashed, and two men seriously if not fatally injured; was the result of bad corn licker and gasoline, Sunday, two miles south of Cameron. Jack R. Adams, principal of Wakelon high school, was the owner of the smashed car, and miraculously escaped death, when the boozers ran into him.

Commencement week in Cameron. This letter is mailed on Tuesday evening before the exercises are finished.

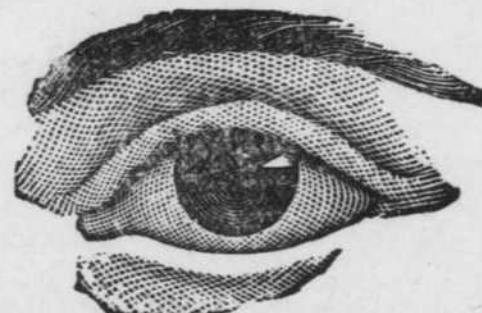

Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon was preached at the Presbyterian church by Rev. M. D. McNeill, who took for his subject "Purity of Heart," based on the sermon on the mount. Text: Blessed are the Pure in Heart, for they shall see God." A sermon beautiful in expression, sublime in thought. A fervent prayer was offered by Rev. O. B. Mitchell.

Monday afternoon a beautiful operetta entitled "Cinderella in Flower Land," and the Faries May Day was beautifully and effectively carried out by the pupils in the primary and advance grades. Tuesday night the seniors held their graduating exercises. Graduates: Miss Sadie Phillips, Mattie Snow, Bessie McDonald.

Miss Lula McPherson, assistant in the dental clinics, and bookkeeper at Kenilworth Hospital at Asheville, has recently had an honor conferred upon her being made president of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Carrie Norman is home from teaching in Johnson county.

Bring us your job work.

Dr. J. C. MANN

Eyesight Specialist will be at CHEARS' JEWELRY STORE Sanford, N. C.

every Wednesday in each week from 10:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. Glasses fitted that are easy and restful to weak eyes, children and young people given special attention. Cross eyes straightened without operation.

FOR

Boys' Clothing

Shoes

Dry Goods and Notions

Heavy and Fancy Groceries

Hay and Feed

Hardware

Farming Tools

Plant Setters, and

Florence Oil Stoves

COME TO THE

VASS MERCANTILE CO.

VASS, NORTH CAROLINA

SELLS THE BEST FOR LESS!

Community

VOLUME

2

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00

CAMERON NEWS

Several of the Cameron people been attending the commencement exercises at Vass this week.

Some of our popular young men went sweethearting to S. Lake, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Vera McLean is speaker part of this week with Margaret McLean on the program.

Ice doesn't cut any roses at the home of Mrs. Frost. She has a rose bush so full of roses that on some of the stems there are as many as thirty-five roses in a cluster.

Mr. Alton Cole and mother, G. S. Cole, attended services Sunday.

All the farmers should have been out Monday night, at the extension pictures, to see the film of destroying the boll weevil. It was decidedly interesting and as instructive. The Lost Cause will be shown before the close of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Borsari, Jr., of Vass, visited relatives Sunday.

Mr. W. C. Branyon, of Henderson, is visiting her sister, M. Wooten.

Misses Mamie and Kate spent the week-end with relatives in Fayetteville.

Mrs. Georgia Matthews and daughter, Frances, attended the commencement at Lemon Springs.

Mrs. J. A. Blue and little daughter, Jennie McNeill, visited Raeford, visited Rev. and Mrs. McNeill last week.

Up on Breezy Summit grows a variety of apples, but peach trees Monday he came into town on a small peach limb on which was growing in a bunch nine peaches. Wind on the previous night had blown the heavily laden little limb down.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thomas family desire to express their appreciation through The Pilot, for the manifested and kindness shown during the severe illness of Miss Letitia Thomas who is now home from Rex Hospital improving rapidly.

Misses Chrissie and Vera attended the Union, Sunday afternoon.

At the home of her daughter, Janie Muse, Mrs. E. A. Muse, familiarly known as "Grandmother," celebrated her ninetyeth birthday on Monday, May eleventh. Those present partook with her of a bountiful repast. Mr. and Mrs. Vass and two children of Vass, Cameron and daughter, Mrs. Mollie Graham on route 1 and Mrs. A. B. Cameron of Vass. Mrs. Rebecca Blue of Cameron, husband, Lieut. John Blue, in the battle of the Wilderness between the States. Fayden's first husband.

(Continued on page 2)