The many invitations about town offer ideal camps and the ponds on the property have not been overlooked when picking their location. C. Evans, a former assistant master of Richmond, has recently, and all are taking interest in belonging to the boys' Club in the world. Last week, the entire trip was a large truck and journey to Thaggard's to fish. Our fishing are fine, manly fellows who depended upon at all times more than their share of attention that needs to be done, and of them overlooks an opportunity "Do a good turn daily."

Weather permitting, an Evangelistic Campaign will be held in the open air in front of the community House. A large building now being built to be used for a loft and four portable buildings have been secured from the Polo Club. These, together with a large number of seats from the community House, will care for several hundred people. Should the weather prevail at any of the meetings, the seats can be replaced in the brief few moments' time. The campaign, of course, will be on the part of the campaign and all prepared to see that those at the meetings are made comfortable. Caligan Choir continues their rehearsals at regular intervals and will be well organized and ready when the meetings begin. We are fortunate in having with us Dowling, of Spartanburg, who is at Pinehurst this summer, and after the interests of the Fern Union Telegraph Company is a member of the Billy Caligan of Spartanburg and is taking an active part in assisting in the charge of the Caligan campaign. It has been privileged to go on the Sunday campaign, Mr. Dowling's experience is of great value for the Pinehurst meetings. Rev. W. L. Wilkins, his regular appointment for next Sunday night, and he is to stay over until the following day, when Rev. Caligan will be in charge. Attractive work has been distributed throughout the county announcing the campaign. We want all to know about it and come and enjoy the work. During the coming week Prayer Meetings will be held on the half of the campaign. The date, June 11 to 17, is now being planned, and we plan now to come as many as possible, as we know all
