

JACKSON SPRINGS NEWS

Off for Bethesda church the first Sunday in July where many of our ancestors attended church before and after the organization of our Presbyterian church more than a century ago. None will travel or dress as in those days. Many rode horseback to church in those days, while others walked and some carried their shoes, setting down on a log before getting to church, putting on the footwear made in the homes from home-tanned leather and greased with tallow or cow's fat, but could be goats.

The game of baseball that was to be played with Troy Saturday afternoon here was forfeited to the locals, the visiting team not appearing on the scene of battle that would have been a one-sided affair with the local high school reinforced by old amateurs, college men, and visiting men that would have been a good amateur game. The local high school team played a picked bunch of players defeating them 7 to 5. Jenkins, a fifteen year old of the Jones Springs section started on the mound for the "pickups." He had speed and curves but lacked control and showed much promise of a good player. He was relieved by Herndon after three innings, who gave way to McAskill before he retired the side. Kelly for the "pickups" and Barnhardt for the high fielding were the features of the game.

Misses Mary and Juanita Bruton entertained several friends Saturday evening in honor of their house guest, Miss Blanche Bruton, of Mount Gil-ead.

John O'Quinn and H. Poole have returned from the Charlotte Sanatorium where they underwent operations for appendicitis. Both young men are doing well.

Mrs. Cattie Blue Campbell and Rev. Jasper Williams, of route 1, were united in marriage Wednesday by Rev. Staley of Eagle Springs.

Miss Ailine Herndon who is taking nurses training at a New Bern hospital, is spending her vacation with relatives near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ehrhart, of Houston, Texas, who have been spending their honeymoon in North Carolina visited the latter's aunts, Misses Louisa and Sarah Copeland at the old Copeland home south west of here a few days ago. The Copelands were among the early settlers in this section. The dwelling built of hewn logs is two stories high and is good for a few more generations. It was erected by Mrs. Ehrhart's great-grandfather near where the Cowpen stood during revolutionary days. The mulberry sapling that was used to tie the sucking calves to grew to be a large tree, decayed and in the hollow of the tree a ten-foot rail could be turned around. The tree was cut many years ago as a protection for the house.

Mrs. Ehrhart is the only daughter of the late John Copeland who migrated to Mississippi about thirty years ago. Since his death about fifteen years ago his widow and three children have resided in Houston, Texas.

Miss Myrtle Poole is the guest of Mrs. R. B. Norris, of Charlotte, while there Miss Poole will have a slight operation performed.

N. D. Reece and sons, Olein and Russell, are visiting at Siloam.

Not many years ago a couple who persisted in undecent dancing were asked to leave the floor. Larger crowds attended dances in those days taking in consideration good roads, automobiles and the increase in population. We are not blaming young people (girls included) for getting "tipsy," but the managers of dance halls who allow and encourage drinking and are against the laws of our state. We are proud that our young people are growing disgusted by the acts of others and the sentiment is so strong that they are not taking active part in the modern dances of today with the attractive dresses that draw attention. Yet some may be influenced, even if their parents are not.

Meredith Herndon, of Raleigh, is at home from Suffolk, Va., where he has been in a hospital since he fell from a train, breaking a rib some time ago.

Miss Agnes Graham is at home from the Charlotte Sanatorium much improved.

Several of our young ladies have gone to various summer schools.

The Christian Endeavor Society were able to hold their meetings in the cool of the evening Sunday as the church was allowed lights again. The stores have lights again and are proud of them but will be more so when the residences and stores are put on a separate line from those who have caused much darkness and hardfeelings. Power comes from the Smith-erman Power Company with line extended from the Samarcan Manor school. This company furnishes a 24 hour current.

Operators of auction tobacco warehouses seem to think something is badly wrong with co-operative system. Are they the farmer's friend, when they encourage and help him in breaking his contract. The contract has stood and will stand until the time is up. And the best thing for the farmer is to stick, encourage and improve our co-operative marketing system which is much better than the old system or the auction men would not spend so much time and money against the co-operative way of selling.

Jason Auman who has been in the Charlotte Sanatorium for several weeks has been brought to his home at Norman and is critically ill.

The Power to Produce
The Power to Save

These the farmer must develop who would forge ahead in his business.

The power to produce depends upon the ability to judge good animals, plants and seeds, machines and materials, as well as good farm hands.

The power to save involves the ability to spend practically; to spend so that there will be a surplus to put in the bank.

Our officers pride themselves on working closely with the farmers of this section.
