

ABERDEEN NEWS

R. F. Stewart and Carl Buchan in company with Dr. Leiby and his assistant, J. A. Harris, made a two-day trip through the Hartsville and Florence, S. C., cotton section. They went to satisfy themselves of the progress made with the spraying method of combating the boll weevil and to also study the boll weevil situation generally. They report that the spraying method has proved a disappointment there the same as at other places where it had been tried and that our cotton here is in good condition as compared to cotton in that section which has been regularly sprayed. While down there Dr. Leiby addressed a delegation of twenty-five cotton planters from the Abbeville, S. C., section at the Pee Dee Experiment Station at Florence.

J. C. Styers, of near Jackson Springs, was in Aberdeen last Saturday with Mr. J. A. Jones, of the Jones Gentry Shoe Store, of Winston-Salem and Wilson Bloom, Jr., also of that place. Mr. Styers is a big tobacco grower, and he bought these gentlemen here to show them what progress we were making in the establishing of a market here.

Prof. Winstead, A. G. L., Masonic Grand Lodge Lecturer and Instructor, of Elon College, N. C., will be in Aberdeen from the 10th to the 15th of September where he will lecture and instruct the local Masons in ritualistic work. There will be morning, afternoon and night sessions each day during his stay here and all Masons are requested to attend the sessions. G. A. Charles, Master of the Local Lodge calls the attention to the fact that it is only once every two years that the lodge can obtain this privilege from the Grand Lodge.

Every now and then Chief Page's "Go to the Right" concrete street posts receive a severe shock, but it remained for three young men to give the one on the corner of Sycamore and Main Streets the shock of its life Sunday afternoon. We can get only one meaning out of "Go to the Right" read it backwards, upside down or any other way, but to these gentlemen it must have meant "Stop and Have a Drink" for low and behold, they stopped to the right of it, to be sure, and all got out. One produced a bottle and each took a drink; then just as perfunctorily they climbed back in again and went on their way rejoicing.

Married, Saturday, August 24th, Mr. Roger Slate to Miss Beatrice Crouch, daughter of Jim Crouch of the Ashley Heights neighborhood. The ceremony took place at Southern Pines. Mr. Slate will make his home on his father's farm just out of Aberdeen.

Secretary Sparrow, of the Building and Loan Association, reports that he has secured subscriptions for 350 additional shares in the Fourth series of the Aberdeen Building and Loan Association, opened for subscription September 1. He succeeded in getting this many on a day and a half canvass. Quite a few people have not been seen as yet and there is no question but what the Fourth series will go beyond the 500 mark. Good work Mr. Sparrow, and good support, folks.

Miss Vivian Welch visited in Holly Springs Sunday.

Mrs. R. G. Farrell accompanied by her son, Robert, motored to Blowing Rock Tuesday and will return here by way of Charlotte Friday.

Jesse Thompson is making alterations and renovations in his grocery and meat market to take care of an increasing trade, especially in his meat line. He has discarded his old ice box and installed a new one in its place, and in addition will set up a new meat counter and meat blocks. Alton W. Covington, who has held down a desk at the Aberdeen Wholesale Grocery Company is enjoying a short vacation preparatory to going to school to prepare himself for the medical profession.

W. G. Smith, the contractor, is erecting a water tank and tower at the Vetterlein Peach Farm on the Pee Dee Road.

Meetings at the Baptist church announced to have been concluded September 1st, were so well attended and aroused so much interest that Rev. Blalock consented to continue them for several days longer, preaching only at nights. He delivered his concluding sermon Wednesday evening.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Mr. E. L. Bryan to Miss Mattie Lou Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marter B. Smith, of Cheraw, S. C., at that place September 1. Mr. Bryan is well known to all of us, having been connected with Carter's Pharmacy up to a year ago. He is now employed in Hamlet, N. C., at which place the young couple will be at home.

Inch by inch the business district across the railroad is coming "out of the hole." Allred and McLeod had a mountain of sand to remove off their lot on South Street on which the new Tobacco Prizery is being built, and they are distributing this among their neighbors and friends.

J. O. Burch, erstwhile of the Sandhill Pressing Club, of Aberdeen, is erecting a filling station opposite the Johnson Store at Ashley Heights. He is at a loss for a name for his filling station and is as helpless as a new father over naming his first born. Somebody please name it for him.

Dr. Warren Stuart, missionary in China, filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and in the evening, both Dr. and Mrs. Stuart who is his active co-laborer in his missionary work, addressed the Young People's Society of the church. Dr. and Mrs. Stuart are house guest of the Sutenfields near Pinebluff and are being extensively entertained by members of the church during their visit here.

Mrs. Esther R. Jones and Miss Mary Page have returned from an extended trip to Pennsylvania and the mountains of West Virginia.

NORTON-SMITH

A marriage of interest to numerous friends took place at four o'clock Thursday afternoon, April 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith near Vass, when their sister, Miss Hattie Shaw Smith, became the bride of Mr. J. Manley Norton, of near Raeford.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. D. McNeill, of Cameron, pastor of the bride, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of white canton crepe, with accessories to match. There were no attendants.

Mrs. Norton is the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and, until the time of her mother's last illness a few months ago, held a responsible position in Raeford where she made many friends. The bridegroom is a successful young farmer of Hoke county. They will make their home with his father until the completion of their new bungalow.

RED LIGHTS

Manager Picquet Announces a Wonderful Thriller as Next Attraction at the Carolina Theatre

Folks with weak hearts are hereby warned to take some tonic before they go to see this picture. Why? Just for the simple reason that the thrills in this most stirring of mystery melodramas are really terrific.

Our hat is off to director Clarence Badger for his handling of this spine-shivering sequence of action that has been built into the runaway train scenes. Dashing madly down steep grades in the Grand Canyon a private Pullman swings wildly along the hills, around sharp corners, through dark tunnels and into what looks like a disastrous crash with the second section of the Continental Limited but just you grip your seat and prepare to witness the smash!

"Red Lights" has all the mystery of "The Bat" and "The Canary," interspersed with some rich comedy so nicely dovetailed that you are laughing at the same time your hair is standing on end.

It is one of the real novelties of the year. Something new under the sun.

If ever a picture deserved success, this is it. It will sure please the red-blooded folks who take their picture entertainment straight.

On the eve of Labor Day, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLean and the correspondent went for an auto spin over the new highway to Niagara; from Niagara, through magnificent woodlands crossing the "persimmon branch" to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith, once known as the Peter Blue plantation. From there, across Shattuck's creek, through a grand wilderness of natural forest, on a road that led near old "Reedy Branch" school house, thence to Lakeview, Vass and home; when our kind host remarked "Back to civilization." But for me give me the woods, the swamps, the hills, the forests, the groves that were "God's first temples."
