The town had a warning regarding the need of water works on Tuesday night, when the house occupied by B. F. Sanford near the cotton mill, caught fire on the roof. The blaze was discovered in time, however, so that the damage was confined to the roof, but that was good fortune; had it got much more of a start a bucket brigade would have been of small consequence.

MISS KATHARINE WILSON URGES HEALTH OFFICERS

Chapel Hill, Jan. 23.—That every county in the state should have a full-time superintendent of public welfare was urged by Miss Katharine Wilson, of Hemp, a graduate student in the University, in a paper read before the regular fortnightly meeting of the North Carolina club.

Miss Wilson's report showed that only 46 out of the 100 counties now have full-time superintendents of public welfare, while in 44 the superintendent of schools is supposed to do the work. Eight counties have half-

HEMSTITCHING Machine and BUTTON MAKING Machine in operation in rear of Nisbet & Howell's Store. Bring work to store or mail to T. J. McGill, Raeford, N. C., P. O. Box 462. Hours 9 to 12, 1 to 4. (11*tf.)

WANTED—Renter to plant 25 acres cotton. 5-room house. Best fertilizer, and plenty of it furnished. Usual terms of rental. P. L. Gardner, Lakeview, N. C. (10*tf) time public welfare superintendents and two are unorganized.

She said that investigation has disclosed it is impossible for one man, no matter how good an executive, to do the combined work of superintendent of schools and public welfare with the assistance they have at present. The only solution of the problem, she said, is to make the two offices separate and distinct.
